THIRD PARTY ADMINISTRATORS

For purposes of administering the various Benefit Options under the Plan, the Plan Administrator has retained the services of certain independent third party administrators and insurance companies, such as Aetna, United Healthcare, Delta Dental and Alight Solutions. Generally the third party administrator does not assume liability for benefits payable under this Plan; some third party administrators, however, may be designated as a "named fiduciary”, as that term is defined in ERISA, for purposes of processing claims.

MORE INFORMATION

We encourage you to retain this handbook for future reference. If you have questions about your benefits, please contact the Hilton Benefits Center. You may reach the Hilton Benefits Center at 1.877.442.4772 Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. CT.

The role of the Hilton Benefits Center and the service center representatives with the Plan’s insurers and third party administrators is to assist you with questions you may have about this Plan. However, statements made by such representatives do not have a binding effect on the Plan. If you need to bring or appeal a claim under this Plan, you should follow the formal claims and appeals procedures described in this booklet.

This SPD is based on legal documents (such as plan documents, insurance contracts and summary booklets and HMO contracts) currently in effect. These documents provide further detail on coverage benefits as well as important exclusions, limitations, and requirements applicable to receive benefits. You may obtain a copy of any of the official legal documents for your coverages online by following the steps below:

*This benefit is available only to a closed group of retirees. No new participants are allowed at this time.

ELIGIBILITY

Your Eligibility

Generally, you are eligible for health and welfare benefits if:

- you are a regular U.S. Team Member of Hilton; and

- you are “full-time”, which for purposes of this Plan means you are either:
  - an hourly or salaried employee who is reasonably expected to work at least 30 hours a week (as determined by Hilton); or
  - an hourly or salaried employee who is not reasonably expected to work at least 30 hours when hired, but who averages 30 or more hours of service during an applicable measurement period, as described in Sections II - V.

You are eligible for disability insurance, life insurance, business travel accident insurance and MetLaw legal services if you are a full-time U.S. Team Member of Hilton (and a corporate salaried Team Member for salary continuation). Your coverage will begin following a 90-day waiting period.

Notwithstanding this rule, a newly hired Corporate Team Member must enroll in the Plan within the first 30 days of hire. If coverage is elected, with exception of Health and Dependent Care Flexible Spending Accounts and Health Savings Accounts, coverage will be effective as of the first day of employment, subject to Evidence of Insurability requirements for Life and Accidental Death and Dismemberment coverage. However, medical, dental and vision coverage will be paid on an after-tax basis through the 90th day of employment. Such coverage will be paid on a pre-tax basis starting on the 91st day of employment. Enrollment in Health Savings Accounts and Health and Dependent Care Flexible Accounts, as applicable, must be completed during the first 30 days of hire; however, contributions to Health Savings Accounts and Health and Dependent Care Flexible Accounts would begin on the 91st day. During the first 90 days of employment, contributions to Health Savings Accounts and Health and Dependent Care Flexible Spending Accounts will not be permitted. If a Corporate Team Member wants Life, Accidental Death and Dismemberment, or Disability coverage, the coverage should be elected during this 30-day period, which, other than Basic Life Insurance, is paid on an after-tax basis. To the extent required by applicable tax rules, for the first 90 days of coverage, the cost of Basic Life Insurance coverage, less amounts paid by the Team Member, will be reported to you on your Form W-2 (“C” in Box 12) and on your paycheck (under “Group Term Life”). See the “Life Insurance” section in this SPD for information on how Basic Life Insurance will be taxed at the end of the 90-day period.

Team Member does not include individuals employed by a hotel owner or any other non-affiliated entities (including franchisees). This definition of Team Member shall apply to this SPD and any other communications sent to participants relating to benefits offered under the Plan.

The following sections describe in more detail who will be eligible and when you can enroll if you become eligible. Definitions for the capitalized terms are provided in Section V.

I. ELIGIBILITY

A. Non-variable Hour Team Members – Non-variable Hour Team Members are eligible and may enroll in coverage as of the date specified in Section II.

B. Variable Hour Team Members – Variable Hour Team Members are eligible if they average 30 or more Hours of Service during the applicable measurement period below:

   1. New Team Members – the applicable measurement period is your Initial Measurement Period; and

   2. Ongoing Team Members – the applicable measurement period is the most recent Standard Measurement Period.

Team Members who become eligible pursuant to either A or B shall be referred to collectively as “Full-Time Team Members.”

See Section II.C. for eligibility rules when you are transitioning between the Initial Stability Period and the Standard Stability Period.
II. ENROLLMENT

A. New Team Members

(1) Non-variable Hour Team Members – Non-variable Hour Team Members will be eligible to enroll in benefit coverage effective on their ninety-first (91st) day of employment.

(2) Variable Hour Team Members – Eligible Variable Hour Team Members will be eligible to enroll in benefit coverage during the Administrative Period following their Initial Measurement Period. Coverage will become effective as of the first day of the Initial Stability Period.

B. Ongoing Team Members – Eligible Ongoing Team Members will be eligible to enroll during the open enrollment period designated by the Plan Administrator. Coverage will become effective as of the first day of the next Standard Stability Period.

Ongoing Team Members who fail to average 30 or more Hours of Service per week during the Standard Measurement Period are not eligible to enroll and will not be offered coverage during the Standard Stability Period. If such Ongoing Team Members were eligible for coverage during the Standard Stability Period that includes the annual enrollment period, they will be offered continuation coverage under COBRA beginning as of the first day of the next Standard Stability Period.

C. Transitioning Team Members – The following rules apply to you when you transition from your Initial Stability Period to your Standard Stability Period:

(1) Coverage During Initial Stability Period - If you averaged 30 or more Hours of Service per week during your Initial Measurement Period and elected coverage, your coverage will continue through the end of the Standard Stability Period.

(b) If you do not average 30 or more Hours of Service per week during your first Standard Measurement Period, your coverage will terminate at the end of your Initial Stability Period and you will not be eligible to enroll in coverage unless you average 30 or more Hours of Service per week during a subsequent Standard Measurement Period. If you are enrolled in coverage at the end of your Initial Stability Period, you will be offered continuation coverage under COBRA beginning as of the day following the end of your Initial Stability Period.

(2) No Coverage During Initial Stability Period - If you did not average 30 or more Hours of Service per week during your Initial Measurement Period, you will not be eligible to enroll in coverage during your Initial Stability Period.

(a) If you average 30 or more Hours of Service per week during your first Standard Measurement Period, you will be eligible to enroll in coverage effective as of the first day of your Standard Stability Period, even if that falls within your Initial Stability Period.

(b) If you do not average 30 or more Hours of Service per week during your first Standard Measurement Period, you will not be eligible to enroll in coverage unless you average 30 or more Hours of Service per week during a subsequent Standard Measurement Period.

III. CHANGES IN EMPLOYMENT STATUS

A. Variable Hour Team Member to Non-variable Hour Team Member – If you change employment status from a Variable Hour Team Member to a Non-variable Hour Team Member during your Initial Measurement Period, you will be eligible to enroll as of the earlier of:

(1) The first day of your Initial Stability Period, if you satisfy Section II.C(1); or...
Participation

(2) The date of your change in employment status (or your 91st day of employment, if later).

B. Non-variable Hour Team Member to Variable Hour Team Member – If you change employment status from a Non-variable Hour Team Member to a Variable Hour Team Member before you begin your first Standard Stability Period, you will remain eligible for coverage until the end of your first Standard Measurement Period (plus Administrative Period), at which time your status as a Full-Time Team Member will be determined based on Hours of Service during the Standard Measurement Period.

III. Leaves of Absence

While you are on an approved leave of absence, you will remain eligible for coverage as long as you remain employed and you make timely contributions, assuming you are otherwise eligible for, and enrolled in, such coverage.

IV. Rehires and Returns from Leave of Absence

When you are rehired following termination of employment, you will be treated as a New Team Member (e.g., subject to a new Initial Measurement Period) if:

- Variable Hour Team Member: your period of no service lasted 13 weeks or longer; or
- Non-Variable Hour Team Member: your period of no service lasted longer than 12 months.

When you return from an approved leave of absence, you will be treated as an Ongoing Team Member, even if your leave of absence lasted 13 weeks or longer.

If your period of no service was less than 13 weeks long (12 months for Non-Variable Hour Team Members), you will be treated as a continuing employee, as if you had not been gone. However, Hours of Service may not be awarded for the period of no service when averaging your Hours of Service for the Standard Measurement Period that includes the date you return to active service. Notwithstanding that rule, you will be eligible for benefits upon rehire if you are a Non-Variable Hour Team Member rehired within 12 months of termination of employment.

V. Definitions

A. Administrative Period – the period running from October 4 to December 31, or with respect to a New Team Member, the period running from the day after the Initial Measurement Period through the first day of the month following the month in which the Team Member’s anniversary of employment occurs.

B. Hour of Service – each hour for which a Team Member is paid, or entitled to payment, for the performance of duties by Hilton and each hour for which a Team Member is paid, or entitled to payment by Hilton for a period of time during which no duties are performed due to vacation, holiday, illness, incapacity (including disability), layoff, jury duty, military duty or leave of absence.

C. Initial Measurement Period – the 11-month period beginning on a Team Member’s date of hire over which hours will be averaged for New Team Members who are Variable Hour Team Members.

D. Initial Stability Period – the 12-month period beginning on the first day of the month following the month in which occurs the anniversary of your date of hire.

E. New Team Member – a Team Member who has been employed less than one complete Standard Measurement Period, or a Variable Team Member who has experienced a period of no service equaling or exceeding 13 weeks (or a Non-Variable Team Member who has experienced a period of service that equals or exceeds 12 months) in accordance with Section IV.

F. Non-variable Hour Team Member – a Team Member, including a temporary employee, who is reasonably expected at the time of hire to work 30 or more hours per week, unless the Team Member is a Seasonal Employee.

G. Ongoing Team Member – a Team Member who has been employed at least one complete Standard Measurement Period.

H. Standard Measurement Period – the period beginning on October 3 and ending on October 2 of the following year during which...
Participation

Hours of Service will be averaged for Ongoing Team Members.

I. Standard Stability Period – the 12-month period beginning each January 1 and ending the following December 31.

J. Seasonal Team Member – a Team Member who performs services on a seasonal basis, as determined by the Plan Administrator in its sole discretion in accordance with applicable guidance. Seasonal Employees may include full-time temporary employees who meet the IRS requirements to be treated as seasonal.

K. Variable Hour Team Member – a Team Member who is not reasonably expected as of the Team Member’s start date to be employed on average at least 30 Hours of Service per week during the Initial Measurement Period because the Team Member’s Hours of Service are variable or otherwise uncertain.

If you are a non-union Team Member regularly scheduled to work 30 or more hours per week at the time Hilton takes over management or ownership of the property at which you are employed, your service at that property may count toward satisfaction of the eligibility requirements. You will be notified if your service will be counted. Absent such notification, your prior service does not count. Prior service for union Team Members will be determined pursuant to the terms of the collective bargaining agreement.

If you are eligible for benefits and your property is closed for renovations, you may be allowed to continue your coverage during the closure under certain conditions and you may be credited with hours of service during the closure. Hilton will determine the requirements for continued coverage and hours credit, and those requirements will be applied consistently to all affected Team Members, to the extent permissible.

Excluded Individuals

The following individuals are not eligible to participate in the Plan: (i) independent contractors, (ii) individuals subject to a consultant or employee leasing agreement, (iii) employees whose employment is covered by a collective bargaining agreement with Hilton (unless the collective bargaining agreement requires otherwise), (iv) individuals employed by a hotel owner other than Hilton or one of its affiliated entities where Hilton manages employees at that hotel but does not actually employ them, unless eligibility is approved by the Plan Administrator, or (v) individuals employed at franchised properties. In addition, even if you are an otherwise eligible Employee, but work at a property that is managed, but not owned, by Hilton and the owner that sponsors and offers its own health and welfare benefits, you will not be eligible to participate in the this Plan.

When Coverage Begins

Subject to certain exceptions and if you timely enroll for coverage, your coverage will begin on the date set forth above.

Payroll deductions for your share of the coverage costs will begin as soon as administratively feasible based on your eligibility date and pay cycle. Your contribution for a pay cycle will not be pro-rated by how many days of coverage are provided during that pay cycle.

For the Employee Assistance Program (EAP), coverage begins on the first day of work.

In some cases, certain coverages may start earlier or be subject to additional requirements. For the following coverages, you must be actively at work on the date coverage is scheduled to begin:

- Disability;
- Life Insurance;
- Accidental Death and Dismemberment; and
- Business Travel Accident.

See the chapters on individual benefit options for other requirements.

Preexisting Conditions

Benefits under the LTD program may be limited if you have a disability due to a preexisting condition. See the “Disability” section of this handbook for details.
Participation

Your Eligible Dependents

Subject to certain limitations, your eligible dependents may also participate in the Plan. Your eligible dependents include your:

- Legal Spouse. Unless you are legally separated. “Spouse” means the individual recognized as your spouse for federal tax purposes. “Spouse” shall not include an individual legally separated from the Participant under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance nor shall it include, for purposes of the Dependent Day Care Account, an individual who, although married to the Participant, files a separate federal income tax return, maintains a separate residence during the last six months and does not furnish more than one-half of the cost of maintaining the principal residence of the qualifying individual.

- Domestic Partner. The Plan defines a domestic partnership as a same-sex or opposite-sex relationship where:

  ✓ Each partner is age 18 or older;

  ✓ Each partner is a U.S. citizen or a U.S. resident alien (not applicable for STD, LTD, Life and AD&D coverage);

  ✓ The partners are not blood relatives;

  ✓ Neither partner is currently, nor have been in the past six (6) months, legally married, or legally separated from each other or someone else, nor does either partner have another domestic partner (not applicable for STD, LTD, Life and AD&D coverage);

  ✓ The partners maintain an intimate, committed relationship of mutual caring and support;

  ✓ The partners have lived together for at least six (6) months, during which time the partners were not married to, or legally separated from, each other or someone else before enrollment in any of the coverages;

  ✓ The partners do and will continue to have the same principal address indefinitely;

  ✓ The partners agree to share basic living expenses during their domestic partnership and will permit anyone who is owed money in connection with these expenses to collect from either partner.

Generally, domestic partners are not eligible for pre-tax coverage, including coverage under the Health Care FSA, unless he or she is a dependent for federal income tax purposes. Please see “Domestic Partners: Tax Implications and Other Information” for more details.

For purposes of the Business Travel Accident program, you and your domestic partner must meet the above requirements for at least 12 months before your domestic partner may be covered under the Business Travel Accident program. In addition, proof of the domestic partnership relationship may be required for certain insured benefits. Please contact the Hilton Benefits Center for more information.

- Children to age 26 (unless otherwise set forth in the applicable benefit option documents), which can include:

  ✓ Your natural children;

  ✓ Your stepchildren or foster children;

  ✓ Your legally adopted children (including children placed with you for adoption);

  ✓ Children of your domestic partner who you support and who live with you;

  ✓ Children who live with you and for whom you are the legal guardian;

  ✓ A child age 26 or older who, because of a mental or physical disability, lives with you and depends on you for financial support if the child’s disability occurred before the child attained age 26. For dependent life insurance and/or Accidental Death and Dismemberment coverage, you must have purchased coverage before his or her 26th birthday for your dependent to be eligible for coverage; and

  ✓ A child pursuant to the terms of a Qualified Medical Child Support Order (QMCSO) (excluding child life and AD&D coverage).
Participation

Note: Underlying benefit options may have different dependent eligibility criteria (e.g., the Dependent Day Care FSA, Dependent Life Insurance, Accidental Death and Dismemberment Insurance, and Business Travel Accident Insurance). Please see the dependent eligibility criteria for each section of this handbook for more information).

If you are a new Team Member eligible for health and welfare benefits who has a child that is already age 26 or older with a mental or physical disability, you may enroll your disabled child for health care coverage if the child was disabled before age 26.

Proof of Dependent/Disabled Status

From time to time you will be required to provide documentation as proof of your spouse or dependent’s eligibility status, including such items as a marriage certificate, birth certificate, adoption papers or affidavit of domestic partnership. Failure to provide adequate documentation, upon request by the deadline provided in the requesting documents, may result in termination of coverage for the affected individual(s) without any coverage extension under COBRA. In addition, coverage of ineligible dependents is in violation of company policy. Team Members identified as covering ineligible dependents may be subject to legal action and discontinued from Plan coverage.

A disabled child that is continuing coverage beyond any limiting age while he or she is disabled will be required to provide proof of a mental or physical disability, including the Social Security Administration Disability Award Notice, to continue coverage. Contact the Hilton Benefits Center for details.

Qualified Medical Child Support Order (QMCSO)

The Plan also provides medical coverage for your child pursuant to the terms of a Qualified Medical Child Support Order (QMCSO). A QMCSO is either a National Medical Child Support Notice issued by a state child support agency or an order or a judgment from a state court or administrative body directing Hilton to cover a child as your dependent under the Plan for medical coverage. Federal law provides that a QMCSO must meet certain form and content requirements in order to be valid.

If the Plan receives a valid QMCSO and you do not enroll the dependent child, the custodial parent or state agency may enroll the affected child. If you have any questions or you would like to receive, free of charge, a copy of the written procedures for determining whether a QMCSO is valid, please contact the Hilton Benefits Center.

Dual Coverage

If your spouse, domestic partner or eligible dependent child also works for Hilton and is eligible for health care coverage and the Health Care and Dependent Day Care FSAs, then he or she can enroll as a Team Member under his or her own coverage or as a dependent under your coverage, but not both.

If you and your spouse or domestic partner are both employed by Hilton and eligible to participate in the Plan, only one of you may enroll your eligible dependent children in the health care benefits. Also, only one of you may cover your eligible children under the dependent life and Accidental Death and Dismemberment insurance programs.

Dependent life insurance does not cover dependents who are also regular, full-time Team Members of Hilton. In that situation, each eligible Team Member is covered as a Team Member under the life insurance program.

State Insurance Mandates and Dependent Coverage

A number of states have laws requiring health insurance companies to extend eligibility and/or provide coverage that may not be reflected in the eligibility and coverage provisions of the Plan. To determine whether such state-mandated coverage applies to you or your dependents and the terms of such coverage, you may contact the Advocacy Team. Upon contacting the Advocacy Team, you may need to provide details on your personal situation, such as location of your residence and age of your dependents. The Advocacy Team will provide you with information about which insurance carriers to contact (and their contact information), and how to request costs of coverage and enrollment procedures, as applicable. You may contact the Advocacy Team at 1-877-442-4772.

On-Site Medical Clinic – McLean, VA

COST OF COVERAGE

The chart below highlights who pays for the benefit coverages and on what basis they are paid. Depending on the benefit chosen, either Hilton or you may pay for all of the coverage, or you may share the cost of the coverage with Hilton. In addition, it shows you how you pay for each benefit coverage – on a pre-tax or after-tax basis. The benefits marked in the “Employer Pays” column require no enrollment; coverage for those benefits is provided automatically.

¹ Even though the above chart indicates payment on a pre-tax basis, you will be required to pay on an after-tax basis for medical and prescription drug coverage if you failed to enroll within the required period, but actually enrolled within 30 days after the end of the required enrollment period. Benefits for domestic partners may also be on an after-tax basis. In addition, effective January 1, 2018, newly-hired Corporate Team Members must, within the first 30 days of employment, enroll in the Plan. If coverage is elected, medical, dental and vision coverage will be effective as of the first day of employment and paid on an after-tax basis through the 90th day of employment and paid on a pre-tax basis starting on the 91st day of employment. During the first 90 days of employment, contributions to Health Savings Accounts and Health and Dependent Care Flexible Spending Accounts will not be permitted. All company-provided benefits under the Plan and contributions to Health Savings Account and Health and Dependent Care Accounts, if elected and as applicable, will start following the end of the 90-day waiting period.

² Some Team Members who choose not to elect medical coverage under this Plan may be entitled to an opt-out credit. You will receive additional information about this credit if it applies to you.

³ Certain Team Members may be eligible for a Company-provided contribution to their Health Care FSA if they elect certain medical coverage. If you are eligible, this benefit will be reflected on your Confirmation of Enrollment.

⁴ Some states require employees to pay for state short-term disability coverage. Check with your local Human Resources department. Enrollment is automatic in these states.

⁶ These benefits are only available to Non-Variable Hour Team.
Participation

Pre-Tax vs. After-Tax

As shown in the chart above, you pay for coverage under certain benefits with pre-tax dollars deducted from your paycheck each pay period. Using pre-tax dollars reduces your taxable income for federal, Social Security and (in most cases) state income tax purposes, making more of your paycheck available for you and your family. Using pre-tax dollars to pay for Plan benefits will not, however, reduce your coverage level for any Plan benefit that is based on your income (e.g., your coverage level of basic life insurance).

You pay for coverage under other benefits on an after-tax basis. This means that you pay for the cost of coverage with your already-taxed dollars (your take-home pay). Your after-tax contributions are also deducted from your paycheck each pay period. IRS rules determine how each benefit you receive is taxed.

If Hilton pays for your life insurance benefits, your coverage is tax-free if your coverage does not exceed $50,000. If Hilton-provided coverage exceeds $50,000, you are taxed on the cost of the coverage over $50,000, which is added to your Form W-2 for tax purposes.

Please note: Using pre-tax dollars can affect any Social Security benefits you may eventually receive. This is because you do not pay Social Security (FICA) taxes on pre-tax dollars. If you earn less than the Social Security “taxable wage base” ($132,900 for 2019) after making contributions to the Plan, your pre-tax contributions to the Plan will lower the portion of your wages that is subject to Social Security taxes. As a result, your Social Security taxes will be lower, which may, in turn, cause your Social Security benefits to be slightly lower when you retire or if you become disabled. The amount of benefit reduction will depend on the amount of your pre-tax contributions and how long you participate in the Plan before you retire. If you have any concerns, or if you need additional information, contact your local Social Security Administration office or consult your financial advisor about the effects of your participation in the Plan.

Please note that coverage under the Plan is subject to payment of any required contribution unless, in the case of a child who is eligible for coverage pursuant to a QMCSO, payment of the required contribution is made by a state agency.

Remember that income tax laws change frequently, and these changes affect different individuals in different ways. Therefore, Hilton cannot assure you that it will be to your advantage to participate in the Plan.

Domestic Partners: Tax Implications and Other Information

If you choose to cover your domestic partner as a dependent under your medical, dental and/or vision coverage, there are important tax implications related to the cost of coverage of which you should be aware. While the Plan permits a domestic partner to be covered as an eligible dependent, the federal government has not changed its definition of dependent under Internal Revenue Code Section 152 to recognize domestic partners. Many domestic partners do not qualify as dependents for federal income tax purposes. Generally, to be a dependent for federal income tax purposes, your domestic partner must live in your home with you for the full tax year, be in a relationship with you that does not violate local law, be a citizen of the U.S. or a resident of the U.S. and, for your taxable year, be over 50% supported by you.

If your domestic partner does not qualify as your legal dependent, you must pay for your domestic partner’s medical, dental and/or vision coverage on a post-tax basis. Accordingly, Hilton will include in your reportable income the value of any medical, dental and vision insurance coverage that you pay for on a pre-tax basis or that Hilton provides for such domestic partner. You will then be taxed on the amount reported. If you believe that your domestic partner meets the requirements to be a dependent for federal income tax purposes such that income should not be imputed to you, please submit to the Hilton Benefits Center a completed Affidavit of “Dependency” for Tax Purposes. Copies of the Affidavit may be obtained from the Hilton Benefits Center.
Participation

Please note that you must make a similar determination with respect to your domestic partner’s children.

You should check with your tax advisor for assistance in determining whether your domestic partner and/or their children are tax dependents under federal and/or state law.

REDUCING THE AMOUNT YOU PAY FOR MEDICAL COVERAGE

You can reduce the amount you are required to pay for medical coverage in 2019 by certifying that you have undergone a wellness status review as described below.

Wellness Review Credit*

The medical plans may offer prevention and wellness programs to reduce your risk of developing life-threatening illnesses. If you certify that you have undergone at least one of the following wellness reviews no later than November 30, 2019, you will receive a one-time a Wellness Review Credit of $300 applied toward the payment of your medical coverage premium for the 2019 Plan year.

- You have undergone a complete physical examination by your primary care physician or other medically licensed practitioner qualified to conduct such examinations; or

- You have submitted to the following tests conducted by your primary care physician or other medically licensed practitioner qualified to conduct such tests: cancer screening (includes mammogram and colonoscopy) and prenatal screening (if applicable).

If you satisfy the credit requirements, your credit will appear as a reduction to your medical premium in your paycheck within 8-10 weeks. Participation in the Wellness Review Credit program is voluntary and will not affect your health insurance eligibility.

* The Wellness Review Credit does not apply to all Team Members and may vary based on eligibility or location.

 Please note that the Plan enrollment materials will specify the ways in which you may certify your completion of the wellness review. In no case should you provide or submit any personal health care information directly to Hilton. Some Team Members who are represented by a bargaining unit may automatically
When to Enroll

The Plan has four types of enrollment opportunities:

- Initial enrollment

  You must enroll before your 91st day of eligible full-time employment if you are a Non-variable Hour Team Member (see definition above) and during the Administrative Period if you are a Variable Hour Team Member.

- A newly hired Corporate Team Member must enroll in the Plan within the first 30 days of hire. If coverage is elected, medical, dental and vision coverage will be effective as of the first day of employment and paid on an after-tax basis through the 90th day of employment. Such coverage will be paid on a pre-tax basis starting on the 91st day of employment. Enrollment in Health Savings Accounts and Health and Dependent Care Flexible Accounts, as applicable, must be completed during the first 30 days of hire; however, contributions to Health Savings Accounts and Health and Dependent Care Flexible Spending Accounts will not be permitted. Corporate Team Members must elect Life, Accidental Death and Dismemberment, and Disability coverage during this 30-day period; however, coverage will not be effective until the 91st day of employment. All company-provided benefits under the Plan will start following the end of the 90-day waiting period.

- During annual enrollment—you must enroll during the enrollment period designated in the enrollment materials;

- Within 31 days after you have a change in status or experience another event that allows you to make a mid-year election change (60 days may be allowed for very limited types of events related to state Medicaid assistance); and

- After-Tax “Grace Period” for Medical Coverage Only—you must enroll within 30 days after the expiration of certain enrollment periods described below.

How to Enroll

Upon becoming initially eligible and before each annual enrollment, you will receive enrollment information that will let you know how and when to enroll for coverage. To obtain medical coverage, you will be required to provide a valid Social Security number for yourself and each dependent that you wish to cover, as well as the date of birth for each covered person. While a Social Security Number is required for all dependents, newborns should be enrolled within the first 31 days of birth even if a Social Security number has not been provided for the child. Upon receipt of the Social Security number, you should input the number into the system on or before the newborn’s first birthday. If you have additional questions about this process, please contact the Hilton Benefits Center.

The elections you make will stay in effect until you change them upon an event permitting a mid-year change in elections or during a subsequent annual enrollment period. If you transfer your employment to a new property (or if you are a Corporate Team Member and your address/zip code changes and the change impacts your available benefits), your coverage will be changed to the lowest cost plan offered to Team Members at your new address/zip code. However, you may be able to select other coverage, if you do so within 30 days of the address/zip code change. See the “Changing Coverage During the Year” section for information on mid-year enrollment and changes.

Annual Enrollment

Each fall, the Plan has an enrollment period for benefits for the following Plan year (January 1 – December 31). You must review your annual enrollment materials to know whether you need to take action or not. Every year can be different. Most annual enrollments are “active,” requiring you to take action and make elections in order to have coverage. Some annual enrollments are “passive,” meaning some or all of your previous benefit elections will remain in effect and you will not be required to make elections in order to have coverage.

Effective January 1, 2019, if you elected Supplemental and Dependent Life Insurance or Supplemental Accidental Death & Dismemberment Insurance for the prior Plan year, no action is required if you want to continue your current elections for the next Plan year. If you want to make changes to your elections for the following Plan year, you must take action during Annual Enrollment, or in accordance with the change in status event rules. This passive enrollment only applies to Supplemental and Dependent Life Insurance and Accidental Death & Dismemberment Insurance. You must make an election for all other coverages for each Plan year in which you wish to participate in these programs.

IMPORTANT: For the Health Care and Dependent Day Care FSAs and Health Savings Account (HSA), you will need to make an election for each Plan year in which you wish to participate in these programs. Your elections for these FSAs and HSA will not automatically continue from Plan year to Plan year, even if the annual enrollment is “passive” for other benefits.

During annual enrollment, you may elect coverage under any of the applicable benefit programs. The elections you make during annual enrollment generally take effect on the following January 1, the start of the new Plan year. See the “Coverage During Absences” section for special rules regarding annual enrollment while on an unpaid leave of absence.

During annual enrollment, you may have the opportunity to:

• Switch from one medical option or dental option to another (if several options are offered in your location), add or drop dependents, or decline or add medical (including prescription drug), dental or vision coverage for the next calendar year.

• With respect to the Health Care and Dependent Day Care FSAs, enroll for coverage and authorize the amount you want to deduct from your pay on a pre-tax basis, subject to certain maximums and IRS regulations.

• With respect to income protection—disability, life and accident coverage—you may be able to enroll for coverage (if not automatically provided), or increase or decrease the level of life insurance coverage for you or your dependents, subject to certain conditions. Certain other restrictions may apply. Please see the “Disability” and “Life and Accident” sections of this handbook for further details.

If you are on a leave of absence at the time of annual enrollment, your elections may be affected. Please see the “Paid and Unpaid Absences” section of this handbook for further details.

Medical Coverage Enrollment – After-Tax Basis

If you miss the deadline to enroll for medical coverage upon your initial eligibility or due to a mid-year event that allows you to change or enroll for medical coverage, you may still enroll for medical coverage only during the 30-day period that begins on the day immediately after your applicable enrollment period expires. Any enrollment during this additional 30-day period will be on an after-tax basis. You must contact the Hilton Benefits Center to enroll for coverage during this period. You will not be able to enroll electronically. If you timely enroll during this “grace period”, coverage will be effective on the day immediately following your enrollment.

Special Circumstances: Re-employment

If you leave Hilton and subsequently return to Hilton, the following rules will apply:

• You will be treated as a New Team Member (e.g., subject to a new Initial Measurement Period) if:
  • Variable Hour Team Member: your period of no service lasted 13 weeks or longer; or
  • Non-Variable Hour Team Member: your period of no service lasted longer than 12 months.

• If you are reemployed less than 13 weeks (12 months if you are non-variable) following your employment termination, you will be
Participation

- If you are rehired within 30 days and within the same year, your prior elections will be reinstated if you are rehired into a benefits eligible position, but if you are rehired more than 30 days after you terminate, you will be eligible to make new elections. If you are rehired within 30 days but in the year following the year in which you terminated employment, you will need to make new coverage elections.

Changing Coverage During the Year

As a general rule, you will be allowed to make coverage changes only if the event results in you, your spouse, or your dependents gaining or losing coverage eligibility under an employer-sponsored plan. Your change in coverage must be consistent with the event (sometimes called a “change-in-status” event or “life” event). For example; if you have a baby, you can change your level of medical coverage from employee only to employee plus family.

The Plan Administrator, in its sole discretion, shall determine whether an event permits an election change and, if so, whether the election change is consistent with the event, in accordance with rules established by the IRS.

Election Period for Changing Coverages and Effective Date of Coverage

If you experience an event permitting you to change any of your health and welfare coverages, you must notify the Hilton Benefits Center and make your election changes within 31 days after the event (60 days for a loss of eligibility for Medicaid or State Child Health Plan or a gain of eligibility for premium assistance under Medicaid or State Child Health Plan), or any longer period specified in the table below. If timely made, coverage changes made due to a mid-year event are generally effective on the first of the month following a timely election change. Three exceptions are:

- For enrollment of a child pursuant to a QMCSO, coverage will be effective as soon as administratively possible after the Plan Administrator determines the QMCSO is valid;
- For HIPAA special enrollment of a child as a result of birth, adoption or placement for adoption, coverage will be effective as of birth or the date on which you acquired the child; and
- For coverages that require you or your dependent, as applicable, to satisfy EOI, coverage will be effective on the later of the first day of the month following a timely election change or the day on which the insurance company approves your EOI. If you are on a leave of absence when the insurance company approves your EOI, coverage will be delayed until the day you are actively at work subject to the rules in the “Coverage During Unpaid Absences” section in the Participation chapter.

If you do not make a timely election, you will not be able to make a mid-year election and will have to wait until annual enrollment (or a subsequent election change event) to make any election changes.

The Plan reserves the right to require, at any time, appropriate documentation of your change in status or other event.

Important Notes Regarding Mid-Year Election Changes

- If you experience a change in status that allows you to decrease your Health Care FSA contributions, you cannot make an election change that will result in decreasing your annual contribution amount below what you have already contributed through the date the change will become effective. For example, if you elect an annual contribution amount of $1,000 and have contributed $600, you cannot elect to decrease your annual contribution amount to $500.
- For changes in status resulting in either you or a dependent becoming ineligible, coverage automatically ends as of the event resulting in your or your dependent's ineligibility (except...
Participation

that health coverage extends through the end of the month for dependents losing eligibility due to reaching age 26). The mid-year election change will stop the premium deduction that relates to the cost of coverage.

- If you become divorced or legally separated or a dependent child is no longer eligible for coverage, your spouse or child will lose eligibility for medical coverage under the Plan on the day the event occurs (except that coverage extends through the end of the month for dependents losing eligibility due to reaching age 26). Please see “Medical Coverage Continuation Rights (COBRA)” later in this section for more information on COBRA for such individuals.

- Certain HIPAA special enrollment rights require that you decline enrollment in the Plan due to other coverage in order to be eligible for enrollment due to a later event. The types of events to which this requirement applies are marked in the table further below titled “Allowable Mid-Year Change Events”.

- Even if your spouse or dependent do not have a Social Security number at the time of the mid-year change, you must contact the Hilton Benefits Center to make your election changes within 31 days after the event (60 days for a loss of eligibility for Medicaid or State Child Health Plan or a gain of eligibility for premium assistance under Medicaid or State Child Health Plan), or any longer period specified in the table further below titled “Allowable Mid-Year Change Events”. If you do not make a timely election, you will not be able to make a mid-year election and will have to wait until Annual Enrollment (or a subsequent election change event) to make any election changes. You must provide the Social Security number of your spouse and dependent, as applicable, in accordance with the instructions provided by the Hilton Benefits Center.

Special Exception When Adding Dependent(s) Does Not Affect Premium

- If you select family medical coverage during annual enrollment but mistakenly fail to include one or more of your dependents, you may add such dependent(s) to coverage, on a prospective basis only. In order for this exception to apply, adding such dependent(s) cannot cause an increase in your premium. No other changes are permitted in this circumstance, unless you experience one of the enumerated change in status events.

Paid and Unpaid Absences

As noted above, the beginning of an unpaid absence is a change in status permitting election changes. To assist you in determining whether your absence is paid or unpaid, triggering your right to make an election change, the following chart identifies which leaves of absences (sometimes referred to as an “LOA”) will be considered paid and unpaid.

Coverage During Unpaid Absences

In the event you qualify for an unpaid leave of absence under Hilton’s leave of absence policy (like an FMLA leave or personal leave), the following describes how your coverages may be impacted during your leave of absence and what happens when you return from a leave of absence.

<td>The coverages in effect when you begin your leave of absence will automatically continue during your leave of absence. You will be directly billed for coverage provided during your leave of absence and will pay for your coverages with after-tax dollars.¹ As discussed in the Flexible Spending Accounts section, any YSA Card will be suspended during an unpaid leave. If you return from a leave of absence and payment for coverage received during your leave of absence is not received after the 30-day grace period for the second billing period expires, coverage will terminate retroactively to the beginning of the period for which payment was not made. If coverage terminates and you incur services during that period, your services will not be covered. If your medical coverage is terminated due to your failure to pay the required contributions, you will not trigger any COBRA rights, and you will be responsible for all claims incurred back to the date that your coverage was terminated.</td>

If you send payment for some, but not all, of your coverages without first dropping the coverages for which payment is not remitted, you will lose ALL coverage.</td>

Return From Leave of Absence

When you return from a leave of absence, you will be enrolled in the following coverage:

1. any coverage in effect at the time of your return will continue upon your return at the same level.\(^2\)
2. If your coverage dropped due to nonpayment during your leave of absence, the elections in place at the time your leave began (for life and AD&D coverage, subject to evidence of insurability requirements).\(^3\)

When you return from a leave of absence, your payroll withholding will begin for the coverage in effect after your return. However, you must also make payment on an after-tax basis for the portion of the month before your return if you continued your coverage through the end of the preceding month. Failure to remit that amount by the end of the applicable grace period will result in loss of coverage both for the portion of the month before your return from LOA and FOR THE REMAINDER OF THE PLAN YEAR. If you have questions about the payment due, you should contact the Hilton Benefits Center for details.

If annual enrollment occurs during your leave of absence, your coverage may be affected as described below.

Exceptions apply for the FSAs—please see the “Flexible Spending Accounts” section for more information.

Annual Enrollment During a Leave of Absence and Return From a Leave of Absence in Different Plan Year

If the annual enrollment period occurs while you are on a leave of absence, you will be sent annual enrollment information and may make election decisions for the upcoming Plan year. It is your responsibility to ensure that Hilton has the most updated information for you during your leave. If you fail to provide your contact information, Hilton will not be responsible for any consequences that may result from your failure to receive annual enrollment information. Any new elections for disability, life and accident coverages will be delayed until you return to work as an eligible Team Member or until you satisfy any required EOI, whichever is later.

The elections you make during annual enrollment may or may not take effect in the following year as described below:

1. Your annual enrollment elections will become effective on the next January 1st, provided:
   - you timely pay for your benefits for all months between annual enrollment and January 1st and for the January following annual enrollment,
   - your coverage was dropped for nonpayment before annual enrollment but you timely pay for the benefits elected during annual enrollment in January, or
   - you elect or default to no coverage following annual enrollment.
2. Your annual enrollment elections will NOT become effective on the next January 1st or thereafter, if:
   - Your coverage is dropped for nonpayment between annual enrollment and January 1st, or
   - Your coverage is dropped for nonpayment of the January contribution amount.

However, you will not be allowed to increase the amount of your life or disability coverages while you are on a leave of absence. You must return to active work before you can elect to increase your coverage amounts.

If you do not make any election changes or if your annual enrollment elections do not become effective under the rules above, your elections in effect at the time your leave began will be reinstated upon return from LOA (except for the Health Care and Dependent Day Care FSAs).

Health Care and Dependent Care FSA elections must be made within 31 days of your return from LOA.

2 When you return from a leave of absence, your payroll withholding will begin for the coverage in effect after your return. However, you must also make payment on an after-tax basis for the portion of the month before your return. Failure to remit that amount by the end of the applicable grace period will result in loss of coverage both for the period before your return from LOA AND FOR THE REMAINDER OF THE PLAN YEAR. If you have questions about the payment due, you should contact the Hilton Benefits Center for details.

3 If the coverage you had when you started your leave of absence is no longer offered, you will be enrolled in the coverage deemed closest to your prior coverage. If you wish to elect different coverage, you must notify the Hilton Benefits Center within 31 days of your return from leave to make the change.

Allowable Mid-Year Change Events

The following chart lists the election changes under the elective health and welfare programs that would be considered consistent with some of the events described above. (1) Conversion rights may apply for certain events. Check with the applicable insurance carrier.

(2) If you have a HIPAA special enrollment right, you and your eligible dependents may enroll in the benefit options under the plan that you and your eligible dependents are eligible for, provided the change in coverage level is consistent with the event.

WHEN COVERAGE ENDS

Your Coverages

Your coverages end upon the first of the following to occur:

- Your employment with Hilton ends (e.g., you retire, quit or are terminated);
- You are no longer eligible to participate (e.g., you do not work, on average, 30 hours per week);
- You fail to timely pay your required contributions;
- You elect to terminate coverage;
- You go out on strike or are locked out;
- You knowingly make, or cause or permit to be made, false statements in order for you or another person to obtain Plan services or payment to which you or the other person are not entitled;
- Hilton terminates the benefit program in whole or in part; or
- Hilton terminates coverages for the eligible class to which you belong.

Termination of your coverages will be effective on the day the triggering event occurs. For example, if your employment with Hilton ends on May 17, your coverages will end on that same day. As of May 18, you do not have coverage, subject to your COBRA and life insurance conversion or continuation rights.

Your Dependent's Coverage

Your dependent’s coverage ends upon the first of the following to occur:

- You fail to submit requested documentation of dependent status in connection with a dependent coverage verification;
- When your coverage ends; or
- Your dependent no longer meets the eligibility requirements.

Termination of coverage due to attaining age 26 is effective on the last day of the month that includes the dependent’s 26th birthday.

If you intend to leave Hilton, be sure to check with the Hilton Benefits Center about your benefit status as soon as possible. In addition, you or your dependent may be able to elect COBRA coverage for continued medical, dental or vision coverage after coverage ends or you may convert certain life insurance coverages to individual policies if you no longer qualify for group coverage through the Plan.

COORDINATION OF BENEFITS

Your medical coverage is fully insured by an insurance carrier. The coverage booklets made available by the insurance carrier (the "Coverage Booklets") provide more detail with regard to coordination of benefits, whether with other plans or with Medicare. See the General information section for how to access these Coverage Booklets.

SUBROGATION AND REIMBURSEMENT

Your medical coverage is fully insured by an insurance carrier. The coverage booklets made available by the insurance carrier (the "Coverage Booklets") provide more detail with regard to the Plan's subrogation rights. See the General information section for how to access these Coverage Booklets.

LIFE INSURANCE AFTER YOU LEAVE

This section provides a brief description of the conversion, portability, and continuation rights you may have for certain insured benefits. For more information about your rights, as well as terms, limitations and restrictions, please refer to your certificate of coverage for the specific insured benefit.

Conversion Rights. These rights apply to employee basic and supplemental life insurance; and dependent life insurance. You or your dependent may convert to an individual policy if you cease to be employed by Hilton, you become ineligible for coverage, or group life insurance (limited rights apply in this circumstance) is terminated under the Plan. To timely convert to an individual policy, you or your dependent must apply for conversion with the appropriate insurance company listed in the “General Information” section at the end of this handbook and pay the first premium within 31 days after your coverage ends.

Portability Rights. These rights apply to employee basic life insurance, supplemental life insurance, dependent life and AD&D coverage. If you have basic life insurance coverage, supplemental life insurance coverage (including dependent coverage), or AD&D and your coverage ends, you may elect to continue group coverage for yourself and/or your dependent under a portability plan by paying the premiums due directly to the insurance company instead of converting the coverage to an individual policy. You must apply within 31 days after your coverage ends. Generally, your portability rights are in lieu of your conversion rights.

Continuation Rights—Minnesota Residents. If you are a Minnesota resident, you may elect to continue your or your dependent’s life insurance for a certain period following certain terminations from employment. You will have a 60-day period during which to make the election. Please contact the insurance company for more details.
HEALTH CARE COVERAGE CONTINUATION RIGHTS (COBRA)

COBRA

A federal law known as COBRA (Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985) allows you and your covered dependent (including your covered spouse, child, domestic partner or child of your domestic partner) to continue your medical, dental and vision care, EAP benefits and Health Care FSA coverage (on an after-tax basis) in certain situations when coverage would otherwise end. Upon a qualifying event (described below), you and your covered dependents may be able to continue these coverages. If otherwise eligible, you and each of your covered dependents have an independent right to elect COBRA continuation coverage.

Although your eligibility may end for the reasons stated in the “Participation” section above, you and your dependents may continue using EAP benefits for the shorter of (i) 18 months following termination of your employment or (ii) the date you (or they) obtain coverage under another employer sponsored medical plan.

When to Elect COBRA

If you and/or your dependents choose continuation coverage through COBRA, you and your covered dependents are offered coverage on the same basis as other participants, except you or your affected dependents pay the entire cost plus a 2% administrative fee (or a 50% administrative fee in the case of an 11-month extension due to disability). COBRA coverage is intended to extend the coverage that is in effect for you and your covered dependents on the day before your qualifying event. COBRA coverage does not create new classes of covered individuals. To be eligible for continuation of coverage, Hilton provided health care coverage must be in effect on the date before the qualifying event. For your dependents to be eligible for continuation of coverage, they must also be enrolled for coverage on the day before the qualifying event.

As noted above, if you elect COBRA coverage, you will receive the same coverage that was in effect on the day before the qualifying event. However, you may change your coverage choices during the annual enrollment period that falls during your COBRA continuation coverage period. If your covered dependents elect COBRA, these same rights apply.

COBRA coverage takes effect on the date coverage is lost on account of the qualifying event if a timely election is made. While Hilton will notify its COBRA Administrator of your qualifying event in the case of your termination from employment (or service, as applicable), reduction in hours or death, it is your (or your covered dependent’s) responsibility to notify the COBRA administrator of any other qualifying event (e.g., divorce, termination of domestic partnership, child reaching age 26). In addition, you may add a newborn or an adopted child during the COBRA continuation period in accordance with the HIPAA “special enrollment” rules outlined earlier. Your newborn or adopted child’s coverage begins immediately.

Reporting a Qualifying Event

You or your affected covered dependent must notify the Hilton Benefits Center either in writing or orally within 60 days after the date on which coverage is lost on account of any of the following qualifying events:

• You divorce or become legally separated, or your domestic partnership ends;
• Your child no longer meets the definition of a dependent (e.g., due to age limit); or
• You (or your covered dependent) are determined to have been disabled under the Social Security Act when coverage ended or at any time during the first 60 days of receiving COBRA continuation coverage.

When you or your affected covered dependent contact the Hilton Benefits Center, be sure to inform the Hilton Benefits Center of the specific event, the date of the event and who is affected. Please note that you may be required to provide documentation concerning the qualifying event.

The COBRA Administrator sends you and/or your affected covered dependent a notice and election form, including the cost of coverage, within 14 days of receiving this notification.

Hilton informs the COBRA Administrator within 30 days of the loss of your coverage on account of any of the following qualifying events:

• Reduction in hours that makes you ineligible for coverage;
• You are laid off;
Administration

- You do not return from an FMLA leave of absence;
- Your termination of employment (or service, as applicable) for any reason other than gross misconduct;
- You become entitled to Medicare; or
- Your death.

The COBRA Administrator sends you and/or your affected covered dependents a notice and election form, including the cost of coverage, within 44 days after one of these qualifying events occur.

Snapshot of COBRA Coverage

Here is a snapshot of who is eligible for COBRA continuation coverage, under what circumstances, and how long COBRA continuation coverage continues for health care coverage. If one of the events listed in the chart occurs, you and your enrolled dependents may apply for COBRA coverage.

*The maximum COBRA period is measured from the date you lose coverage on account of the qualifying event. If your qualifying event is termination of employment or reduction in hours of employment and you became entitled to Medicare less than 18 months before the date coverage ended, the maximum COBRA period for your enrolled dependents lasts until 36 months after the date you became entitled to Medicare. If eligible for COBRA under the Health Care FSAs, the maximum COBRA period is through the end of the calendar year in which the qualifying event occurs. See “Health Care Flexible Spending Account” below for details.

Note that in the event you become entitled to COBRA coverage due to a loss of coverage triggered by a military leave of absence covered by the USERRA, you will receive continued coverage at the same cost paid by active Team Members for the first 30 days of your military leave. Also, your continuation coverage period is 24 months, not 18 months.

See “COBRA Coverage for Disabilities” below for details.

Deciding Whether or Not to Continue Coverage

You have 60 days from the day coverage would otherwise end (or from the day the notice is sent to you, if later) to choose continuation coverage.

In order to continue your health care coverage, you and/or your covered dependents must pay the full cost of coverage, plus a 2% fee for administrative costs (or a 50% administrative fee in the case of an 11-month extension due to disability).
Your first payment (due within 45 days of your election) must include your COBRA contribution for the entire period from the date coverage ended through the month of the payment. Subsequent contributions are due on the first of the month, whether or not you receive a bill. If the COBRA Administrator does not receive your monthly contribution within 30 days of the first of the month, coverage is canceled as of the last day of the month in which you paid a contribution. If you do not choose to continue coverage, you should make the appropriate election on the election form and return it to the COBRA Administrator. In that case, your health care coverage ends on the day on which the qualifying event occurred.

When Continuation Coverage Ends

Continuation coverage ends when any of the following events occur:

- You (or a covered dependent) reach the end of the applicable maximum COBRA period for coverage;
- You (or a covered dependent) do not pay a monthly contribution within 30 days of its due date;
- Upon you or your covered dependent’s written request to cancel coverage;
- You (or a covered dependent) become entitled to Medicare after the COBRA event;
- You (or a covered dependent) subsequently become covered under another group medical or dental plan that does not contain a preexisting condition rule; or
- Hilton ceases to provide any group health plan coverage.

Please inform the Hilton Benefits Center of any changes in address or in personal circumstances so that you and your covered dependents can receive the necessary information concerning your rights to continuation of coverage. However, if you are already receiving COBRA, please contact the COBRA Administrator to update any changes in address or in personal circumstances.

COBRA Coverage for Disabilities

As shown in the chart above, COBRA coverage can be extended from 18 months up to 29 months if you (or another qualified beneficiary) become eligible for COBRA coverage or become disabled during the first 60 days of COBRA coverage. Monthly contributions for continuation coverage increase to 150% (from 102%) of the monthly amount for each of the 11 additional months of continuation coverage. (Any covered dependents can also continue their COBRA coverage during this extension period.)

To be eligible for this extension, the individual must:

- Receive a determination of disability from the Social Security Administration (SSA) that the individual was disabled on the date coverage ended, or became disabled during the first 60 days of COBRA coverage, and
- Notify the Hilton Benefits Center prior to expiration of the original 18 month coverage period and within 60 days after the later of:
  - The date of the SSA’s determination of disability; or
  - The date of the qualifying event.

If the SSA determines that the individual is no longer totally disabled, continuation of coverage will cease. The individual must notify the Hilton Benefits Center within 30 days of any such finding. Coverage will terminate on the earlier of the first day of the month that is at least 30 days after the SSA’s findings or at the end of the 29-month period.

Health Care Flexible Spending Account

You and your covered dependents are also permitted to elect COBRA continuation coverage for the Health Care FSA upon a qualifying event, provided you have not received reimbursement for amounts that exceed the balance in your Health Care FSA as of the date the qualifying event occurs (i.e., you have not “overspent” your Health Care FSA). In this case, you would continue contributions on an after-tax basis. The COBRA rules discussed in this section are the same, except that the maximum period for which you may continue after-tax contributions to your Health Care FSA is the remainder of the Plan year in which the qualifying event occurs.

Administration of COBRA

If you have any questions about COBRA or if you are required to notify Hilton of any event to trigger
Administration

Hilton's COBRA obligations, please contact the Hilton Benefits Center. Upon any required notification by you, the Hilton Benefits Center will contact the COBRA Administrator to send you any necessary paperwork. Alight Solutions has been engaged as the Plan's COBRA Administrator to assist with the sending and receiving of COBRA information, including the collection of COBRA premiums if elected by participants.

State Continuation Coverage

Certain states, such as California, provide for continuation coverage extending beyond the date your federal COBRA coverage ends. You should contact your insurer at the address listed in the coverage booklet provided by the insurer for more information. You may contact the Advocacy Team at 1-877-442-4772.

Other Coverage Options Besides COBRA

Instead of enrolling in COBRA continuation coverage, there may be other coverage options for you and your family through the Health Insurance Marketplace, Medicaid, or other group health plan coverage options (such as a spouse’s plan) through what is called a “special enrollment period.” Some of these options may cost less than COBRA continuation coverage. You can learn more about many of these options at www.healthcare.gov.

This section reviews what you need to do to file claims for the different benefit options in the Plan. If you have any questions about filing claims, please call the appropriate administrator or carrier as listed in the General Information section of this booklet.

What Is a Claim?

There are two general types of claims: a claim regarding eligibility or enrollment, and a claim for benefits.

Claim Regarding Eligibility or Enrollment. This is a claim involving eligibility under a benefit program or enrollment in a benefit program. The U.S. Appeals Committee, to which the Plan Administrator has delegated authority to decide eligibility claims, generally determines these types of claims. If you are denied disability or life coverage because you did not satisfy an insurance requirement for coverage (e.g., Evidence of Insurability), any inquiries or claims should be directed to the Claims Administrator (the insurance company for the coverage).

Claim for Benefits. A claim for benefits is the more common type of claim and is a request that benefits be paid under the applicable program or, with respect to the Health or Dependent Day Care FSAs, a request that expenses be reimbursed.

Do You Need to File a Claim?

You may or may not need to file a claim to receive benefits. For example, if you participate in an EPO or HMO benefit option, you will generally not need to file claims for medical coverage. For a CDHP medical coverage option or a PPO dental option if you receive in-network services, you do not need to file a claim—the provider should do that for you. However, if you receive non-network medical or dental services you will be responsible for filing your own claims.

For more information regarding the claims filing process see the insurance certificate for your benefit option. The following chart summarizes these requirements for the various benefit options. In the event of a conflict between the claim procedures below and those shown in the Coverage Booklet, the terms of the Coverage Booklet will control.

Timely Filing

You should make every reasonable effort to file claims promptly after you incur services. In most cases you have up to 12 months from the date of service to file your claim. Claims filed or received after 12 months are not generally eligible for payment.

Claims and Appeals

IF A CLAIM IS DENIED

If your claim for benefits under the Plan is denied, you may have it reviewed in accordance with the following claims review procedures. The procedures will vary depending on the type of benefit claim it is.

Denial of Insured Benefit Claims

If your claim for an insured or third-party benefit is denied under the Plan, you should refer to the applicable policy or Certificate of Coverage provided by the carrier, or contact the insurance carrier (see the General information section) for more information on the applicable claims procedures.

Eligibility or Enrollment Claims Process

These procedures apply to claims for eligibility or enrollment in a benefit program.

Filing a Claim

If you believe that you or your dependent is eligible or entitled to enroll under the Plan or a specific benefit program, you may file a claim in writing with the U.S. Appeals Committee.

Initial Claim Decision

When a claim is received, the U.S. Appeals Committee must notify you of its benefit determination within 90 days of the receipt of the claim. An extension of 90 days will be allowed for processing the claim if special circumstances are involved. You will be given notice of any such extension. The notice will state the special circumstances involved and the date a decision is expected.

The U.S. Appeals Committee will send you a written notice of an adverse determination. A denial of a claim will include:

- The reason(s) for the denial;
- References to the specific plan provisions on which the decision was based;
- A description of any additional material or information you should supply in support of your claim and an explanation of why it is necessary, if any;
- A description of the plan’s appeal procedures and the time limits applicable to the appeal process; and
- A statement of your right to bring a civil action under Section 502(a) of ERISA following an adverse determination on appeal.

Appealing an Eligibility or Enrollment Claim Denial

If you (or your duly authorized representative) believe that a denial is incorrect, you may request a full review by the U.S. Appeals Committee within 60 days after your receipt of denial of your claim. In connection with your appeal, you or your representative may submit written comments, documents, records and other information relating to the claim. You also have the right to request copies of all relevant documents (free of charge). The relevant documents that must be made available to you include documents, records and other information that:

- Were relied on in deciding your claim;
- Were submitted, considered or generated in the course of deciding your claim; or
- Demonstrate that the decision complied with the Plan’s administrative procedures or safeguards.

The U.S. Appeals Committee will furnish you with a written decision providing the final determination of the claim. The U.S. Appeals Committee’s review will take into account all comments, documents, records and other information related to the claim, regardless of whether such items were considered in the initial claim decision. The U.S. Appeals Committee’s decision on appeal usually will be made within 60 days after receiving your appeal, unless special circumstances require an extension of an additional 60 days. If the period is extended, the U.S. Appeals Committee will notify you in writing of the extension within 60 days of receiving your appeal. The U.S. Appeals Committee’s decision on review will be final and binding on you, your dependents and any other interested party. Your appeal notice will include:
Claims and Appeals

• The specific reason or reasons for the appeal decision;

• Reference to the specific Plan provisions on which the determination is based;

• A statement that you have the right to request access to and copies of all relevant documents free of charge; and

• A statement that you have the right to bring a civil action under Section 502(a) of ERISA following an adverse determination on appeal.

Health FSA

These procedures apply to the Health Care FSA.

Generally, the steps below describe your appeal procedures, regardless of the type of claim. A claim is not deemed “filed” for purposes of these claims review procedures until it is filed in accordance with the applicable claims filing procedures established by the applicable Claims Administrator (see General Information section) and it is received by the Claims Administrator.

The following provides additional detail about how your claims appeals are processed for all benefits that are not insured:

• Each level of appeal will be independent from the previous level (in other words, the same person(s) or subordinates of the same person(s) involved in a prior level of appeal will not be involved in the appeal)

• On each level of appeal, the claims reviewer will review relevant information that you submit even if it is new information. In addition, you have a right to request documents or other records relevant (as defined by ERISA) to your claim

• You cannot file suit in federal court until you have exhausted these appeals procedures

Step 1: Notice of denial is received from Claims Administrator. If your claim is denied, you will receive written notice from the Claims Administrator that your claim is denied. You will receive notice of the decision within 30 days of receipt of your claim. In addition, the Claims Administrator may request an extension of time in which to review your claim for reasons beyond the Claims Administrator’s control. If the reason for the extension is that you need to provide additional information, you will be given 45 days in which to obtain the requested information. The time period during which the Claims Administrator must make a decision will be suspended until the earlier of the date that you provide the information or the end of the applicable information gathering period.

Step 2: Review your notice of denial carefully. Once you have received your notice from the Claims Administrator, review it carefully. The notice will contain:

a. The reason(s) for the denial and the Plan provisions on which the denial is based;

b. A description of any additional information necessary for you to perfect your claim, why the information is necessary, and your time limit for submitting the information;

c. A description of the Plan’s appeal procedures and the time limits applicable to such procedures, including a statement of your right to bring a civil action following a denial of your final appeal.

Step 3: If you disagree with the decision, file a first level appeal with the Claims Administrator. If you do not agree with the decision of the Claims Administrator and you wish to appeal, you must file a written appeal with the Claims Administrator within 180 days of receipt of the Claims Administrator’s letter referenced in Step 1. You should submit all information referenced in Step 2 with your appeal. You should gather any additional information that is identified in the notice as necessary to perfect your claim and any other information that you believe will support your claim.

Step 4: You receive a notice of the first level appeal from the Claims Administrator. If the claim is again denied, you will be notified by the Claims Administrator within 30 days.

Step 5: Review your first level appeal notice carefully. You should take the same action you take in Step 2 described above. The notice will contain the same type of information that is provided in the first notice of denial provided by the Claims Administrator (see Step 2).

Step 6: If you still disagree with the Claims Administrator’s decision, file a second level appeal with the Claims Administrator, if permitted. If you still do not agree with the Claims Administrator’s decision, you have exhausted your appeals.
Claims and Appeals

Administrator’s decision and you wish to appeal, you must file a written second (and final) level appeal to the Claims Administrator within 60 days after receiving the first level appeal denial notice from the Claims Administrator. You should gather any additional information that is identified in the notice as necessary to perfect your claim and any other information that you believe will support your claim.

Step 7: Review your second level appeal notice carefully. If the Claims Administrator denies your second level appeal, you will receive notice within 30 days of receipt of the appeal. The notice will contain the same type of information that was referenced in Step 2 above, including your right to bring a civil action following a denial of your final appeal.

Medical Coverage

OVERVIEW OF YOUR MEDICAL COVERAGE

Your medical coverage is a key component of the Plan. This coverage is a group health plan and pays benefits for the treatment of an illness or injury and offers many features, such as mental/behavioral health coverage, preventive health care coverage, well-baby care and prescription drug coverage.

You may choose from the array of medical coverage options available in your area under HealthChoice.

You may choose medical coverage for yourself and your eligible dependents under the following coverage levels:

- You Only
- You + Spouse
- You + Child(ren)
- You + Family

Certificates of Coverage

Your medical plan options are fully insured by an insurance carrier. The separate Certificates of Coverage provided by the insurance carrier will govern the terms of the insured medical plans.

Hospital Admissions for Maternity

The Newborns’ and Mothers’ Health Protection Act requires medical plans to provide a minimum hospital stay for the mother and newborn child of 48 hours after a normal, vaginal delivery and 96 hours after a cesarean section unless the attending physician, in consultation with the mother, determines a shorter hospital length of stay is adequate.

Post-Mastectomy Care

If you or a covered dependent is receiving benefits in connection with a mastectomy and you or your covered dependent elect breast reconstruction, the medical program options also cover, in a manner determined in consultation with the attending physician and the patient:

- All stages of reconstruction of the breast on which the mastectomy was performed;
- Surgery and reconstruction of the other breast to produce a symmetrical appearance; and
- Prostheses and treatment of physical complications of the mastectomy, including lymphedema.

Coverage for prosthetic devices and reconstructive surgery is subject to the same copayments and deductibles as those established for other benefits under the medical program options.

Voluntary Medical Benefits

You may enroll in voluntary medical benefits if you are enrolled in medical coverage under the Plan or another major medical plan. If you elect to enroll in voluntary medical benefits, the premiums for the coverage are 100% paid by you on an after-tax basis. You may choose voluntary medical benefit coverage for you and your eligible dependents. The insurance documents provide further detail on coverage benefits as well as important exclusions, limitations, and requirements applicable to receive benefits.

Flexible Spending Accounts

OVERVIEW OF YOUR FLEXIBLE SPENDING ACCOUNTS

Hilton offers eligible Team Members a way to pay certain health care and dependent day care expenses with pre-tax dollars through two types of Flexible Spending Accounts (the “FSAs”) — a Health Care FSA and a Dependent Day Care FSA. As you read about the FSAs, keep the following in mind:

- Each year at annual enrollment, you decide whether or not to use one or both of the FSAs and how much to contribute during the upcoming year. Because your contributions are not considered taxable, you may want to consider whether an FSA can help you pay less in taxes in an upcoming year.

- You make contributions to your FSAs through authorized pre-tax salary deductions. These contributions remain in your FSAs until you file an appropriate claim form for reimbursement or pay for health care expenses using the YSA Card (or until they are forfeited after the end of the year). After filing a claim form, you are reimbursed for eligible expenses with tax-free dollars from the appropriate FSA.

- If you have any money left in either FSA at the end of the year, you can submit claims incurred through March 15 of the following year (the “grace period”) to be reimbursed from the prior year’s balance.

- If, at the end of the year and its grace period, there are funds remaining in either FSA for which you do not submit a timely claim form, you forfeit those amounts as required by Internal Revenue Service (IRS) regulations.

By using pre-tax dollars to pay certain eligible health care and dependent day care expenses, you may save some taxes each year. Here is a snapshot of the Health Care and Dependent Day Care FSAs.

¹If you elect a Limited Purpose FSA, only dental and vision expenses will be Eligible Expenses.

² Certain Team Members may be eligible for a company-provided contribution to their Health Care FSA if they elect certain medical coverage. If you are eligible, this benefit will be reflected on your Confirmation of Enrollment.

³To satisfy the requirements of federal law, Dependent Day Care FSA contributions made by highly compensated employees (those who earned over $125,000 in 2018) may be subject to a lower contribution limit.
Flexible Spending Accounts

How Your Flexible Spending Accounts Work

If you decide to participate in one or both of the FSAs, the Plan Administrator will establish one or two accounts, as applicable, in your name. Your FSA is a bookkeeping account only; so no actual funds are segregated for this benefit. The Health Care and Dependent Day Care FSAs generally work in the same manner, but they are two separate accounts that are subject to some different rules and restrictions. In addition, amounts credited to your Health Care FSA may not be used to reimburse you for your dependent day care expenses, and amounts credited to your Dependent Day Care FSA may not be used to reimburse you for your health care expenses.

What You Need to Do

To make the FSAs work for you, follow these steps:

- Estimate your expenses
  Consider your estimate carefully because you forfeit any unused amounts left in your FSAs under the IRS’s “use-it-or-lose-it” rule.

- Determine how much to contribute
  After you decide on the annual dollar amount (subject to each FSA’s maximum) for your estimated expenses, you will make a separate election for each FSA.

- Incur expenses
  The FSAs reimburse enrolled participants for eligible expenses they or their dependents incur during the Plan year (January 1 through December 31) and until the following March 15 (the “grace period”).

- Receive reimbursement
  You can use your Health Care FSA to pay for eligible health care expenses by using your YSA Card or by seeking reimbursement for expenses you paid directly. For eligible dependent day care expenses, you must pay the service provider and then seek reimbursement from your Dependent Day Care FSA. See “Using Your YSA Card” at the end of this FSA Section for more information about the YSA Card.

If You Terminate Employment

Only the expenses incurred while you are an active Employee and contributing to the FSAs are eligible for reimbursement, unless, with respect to the Health Care FSA only, you continue your participation through COBRA. (See “Medical Coverage Continuation Rights” in the “Participation” section of this handbook for more details.)

If you terminate employment and are rehired within the same year, special rules apply to your new Health Care FSA contributions. If when you terminated you had received reimbursements totaling more than you contributed for the year, any new contributions made when you are rehired will first be used to reimburse the Plan for the excess payments made to you earlier in the year.

If you terminate employment with Hilton and are immediately hired by either of the other employers participating in this Plan, you will not be treated as having terminated employment for purposes of the Plan.

If You Return from a Leave of Absence

If you go on a paid leave of absence, your contributions to the Health Care FSA will continue. If you go on an unpaid leave of absence, you may continue contributions on an after-tax basis by submitting payments to the COBRA Administrator. By continuing contributions, expenses incurred during the leave will be reimbursable, if they are eligible expenses (Dependent Care FSA expenses are likely not reimbursable expenses if incurred during a leave. See the Dependent Care FSA section below for more information.)

If you choose not to continue coverage in your FSAs during your leave of absence, upon your return you can choose to:

- Reinstatement your per pay period deduction amount, or
- Adjust your per-pay-period deduction to meet your elected annual contribution.

In either case, you will not be able to receive reimbursement from your FSAs for eligible expenses incurred during your leave of absence (unless you elect COBRA coverage). As discussed below, any YSA Card will be deactivated during an unpaid leave.
Flexible Spending Accounts

If you begin your leave of absence in one plan year and return in a later plan year, you must make new FSA elections within 31 days of your return to work.

“Use-It-or-Lose-It” Rules

Tax laws require that all amounts that you contribute to your FSA during the year be used to reimburse eligible expenses that you incur during the same year. If you overestimate your expenses, the tax laws require that any unused pre-tax contributions be forfeited.

As an exception to this requirement, the FSAs offer a grace period that automatically extends the coverage period of all participants who are covered on the last day of the Plan year (December 31). You have until March 15 of the new year to incur claims for reimbursement from your prior year’s FSA. Any claims or provider payments that cover expenses incurred during the grace period will be automatically paid out of the prior Plan year’s account first and then, when that account balance is exhausted, the new Plan year account.

You have until April 30 of the next year to submit claims for reimbursement from your FSAs for eligible expenses incurred between the previous January 1 and December 31 and during the grace period. Once this deadline passes, you will forfeit any balance remaining in your FSA after all proper claims have been submitted and paid.

Uniform Coverage Rule

For the Health Care FSA, you are entitled to reimbursement for eligible expenses for the full amount of your annual election as of your first day of coverage. This is called the “uniform coverage rule”. You will continue to be reimbursed for eligible expenses until your total reimbursements equal the annual amount you elected to contribute to your Health Care FSA.

The uniform coverage rule does not apply to your Dependent Day Care FSA. As you submit claims for eligible expenses, you will be reimbursed for all proper claims up to the actual amount that is credited to your Dependent Day Care FSA when the claim is received. If the balance in your Dependent Day Care FSA is less than the amount of a claim, the claim will be held and reimbursed after additional contributions sufficient to cover the claim have been credited to your Dependent Day Care FSA.

A Word About Taxes

FSA contributions reduce your taxable income – meaning you pay less in taxes. Your FSA contributions, as well as the money reimbursed to you, are not subject to:

- Federal income taxes
- Social Security (FICA) taxes
- In most cases, state and local income taxes

Rules vary, and state and local tax laws are subject to frequent change. Please see the discussion “Pre-Tax vs. After-Tax” under “Cost of Coverage” in the “Participation” section of this handbook for a general discussion about the impact of reducing your taxable income by pre-tax contributions.

Health Care FSA vs. the Income Tax Deduction

Under current tax law, the types of expenses that can be reimbursed through your Health Care FSA are normally deductible on your federal income tax return if they exceed 7.5% of your adjusted gross income. When you use your Health Care FSA to reimburse these expenses, you give up the opportunity to take a tax deduction for these same items. Consult a professional tax advisor familiar with your personal situation for advice if you think your health expenses will exceed 7.5% of your adjusted gross income.

Dependent Day Care Account vs. the Income Tax Credit

Based on your income level, you can take a tax credit anywhere from 20% to 30% of your annual dependent day care expenses on your federal income tax return. These expenses are limited to $3,000 for a single dependent and $6,000 for two or more dependents receiving care.

You cannot use the Dependent Day Care FSA and the tax credit for the same expenses. The IRS reduces your available tax credit by $1 for each $1 of reimbursement you receive from such an account. However, you may be able to receive a partial dependent tax credit for expenses that are eligible for the tax credit and exceed the maximum amount allowed for reimbursement under the Dependent Day Care FSA.

1 Not applicable to Employees in New Jersey.
Flexible Spending Accounts

There are some exceptions to this rule. The approach that offers you the better financial advantage will depend on your income and expenses. IRS Publication 503 (available at www.IRS.gov) can provide you with information that you need to make a decision. Finally, you may want to get advice from your professional tax advisor to help you determine which method is better for you.

THE HEALTH CARE FSA

The Health Care FSA offers you an opportunity to pay for eligible expenses with pre-tax salary contributions that you allocate to this account. You may elect to make pre-tax salary contributions up to $2,650 to this account each year, unless your annual enrollment materials provide otherwise.

Eligible Dependents

You can use the Health Care FSA to reimburse your eligible dependents’ health-related charges. This includes your spouse, children up to age 26, and any of your dependents eligible under the Plan as a Qualifying Relative or Qualifying Child, even if your dependents are not covered under the medical program.

However, note that you may only submit expenses for your domestic partner if your domestic partner qualifies as your dependent and satisfies the requirements of a Qualifying Relative. See “Domestic Partners: Tax Implications and Other Information” in the “Participation” section of this handbook for more information.

Reimbursable and Non-Reimbursable Expenses

The Health Care FSA reimburses you for many, but not all, health care expenses that are tax deductible. In general, you can receive reimbursement for expenses incurred for medical care, which includes amounts paid for the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease, provided that they are not reimbursable from any other source and, if they are eligible for a tax deduction under IRS guidelines, you do not take the tax deduction. But, expenses incurred to merely benefit your general health or for personal reasons (such as cosmetic surgery, other than to correct or cure a deformity or correct a congenital abnormality) are not considered expenses for medical care. According to IRS regulations, services are “incurred” when you are provided with the medical care that gives rise to the medical expenses, and not when you are formally billed or charged for, or pay for, the medical care.

The following chart identifies just some examples of eligible and ineligible expenses. Other expenses not listed below may or may not be eligible for reimbursement. Remember that, except in the event you elect to continue your participation in the Health Care FSA through COBRA upon a qualified event, you must be contributing to your Health Care FSA in order to be eligible to be reimbursed for covered expenses. For example, if you stop contributing to your Health Care FSA due to a change in status event but are still covered as a Team Member under other benefits offered under the Plan, you will not be eligible to receive reimbursements from your Health Care FSA for expenses incurred after the date you stop contributing to the Health Care FSA. To learn more, contact Your Spending Account at the number set forth in the General Information section.

THE LIMITED USE HEALTH CARE FSA

The Limited Use Health Care FSA is designed for you if you participate in a high deductible health plan and want to contribute to a health savings account (HSA). The Limited Use Health Care FSA is subject to the same contribution and eligibility requirements that apply to the Health Care FSA. However, the Limited Use Health Care FSA will only reimburse you for dental and vision care expenses not covered by the Plan.

THE DEPENDENT DAY CARE FSA

You can use the Dependent Day Care FSA to pay for some or all of the expenses you incur for the care of a child or adult dependent who resides with you and is incapable of self-care while you work. However, to qualify as an eligible expense, all of the following must be true:

- Care for your dependent(s) must be necessary for you and your spouse, if any, to work, go to school full-time, or if your spouse, who lives with you, is incapable of self-care as defined by the IRS. In other words, expenses are not eligible if they are for services provided while you are out for the evening socially or on vacation.

- If the care is provided by a day care facility that cares for six or more individuals at the same time, the facility must be licensed and comply with all federal, state and local regulations governing day care centers.

- Your care provider is anyone other than the child’s parent or a person whom you claim as a dependent on your federal income tax return (a relative who provides care must be at least age 19). In addition, you must provide your caregiver’s name, address and Social Security number or taxpayer identification number when you file for reimbursement. You also must provide this information on your federal income tax return, unless your caregiver is a church or other religious organization.

If You Are Married

Under federal law, if you participate in the Dependent Day Care FSA and your spouse participates in a similar account through his or her own employer, your combined contributions to both accounts in a calendar year may not exceed $5,000 (a lesser limit may apply to highly compensated employees). This limit applies regardless of the number of dependents receiving care. If you and your spouse file separate income tax returns, the most each of you may contribute is $2,500. In addition, your Dependent Day Care FSA contributions may not exceed the annual income of the lower-paid spouse, if that amount is smaller than the benefit limits indicated above.

In general, you may not participate in the Dependent Day Care FSA if your spouse does not work outside the home. There are two exceptions: if your spouse does not work outside the home and is physically or mentally unable to care for himself or herself, or if he or she is a full-time student. In either of these cases, for purposes of calculating the contribution limit, the IRS considers your spouse’s earned income to be:

- $250 a month ($3,000 a year) if you have one dependent
- $500 a month ($6,000 a year) if you have two or more dependents

If you participate, it is your responsibility to comply with the federal limits.

Eligible Dependents

An eligible dependent is a child younger than age 13 whom you claim as a dependent on your income tax return. An eligible dependent can also be an older dependent who:

- Depends on you for at least half of his or her support;
- Has the same principal residence as you for more than one-half of the taxable year; and
- Is physically or mentally unable to care for himself or herself.

Your dependent may be a spouse, an elderly parent, or any other relative or dependent, as long as he or she is incapable of self-care and meets all of the above requirements.

Reimbursable and Non-Reimbursable Expenses

Similar to the Health Care FSA, the Dependent Day Care FSA reimburses you for dependent day care expenses that are tax deductible so that you and your spouse, if any, may work or attend school full time.

The following chart identifies just some examples of eligible and ineligible expenses. Other expenses not listed below may or may not be eligible for reimbursement. To learn more, contact Your Spending Account at the number set forth in the General Information section.

APPLYING FOR REIMBURSEMENT

Reimbursement from either FSA is available only after the service for which you are seeking reimbursement is performed and you receive reimbursement from all other sources. As described above, you can pay for eligible health care expenses by using your YSA Card or by seeking reimbursement for expenses you paid directly. For eligible dependent day care expenses, you must pay the service provider and then seek reimbursement from your Dependent Day Care FSA.

Health Care FSA Reimbursements

You may use your prepaid Your Spending Account card (YSA Card) to pay for eligible health care expenses, which means you do not have to submit a claim for reimbursement for certain approved merchants (see the section below titled “Automatic Validation with Approved Merchants” for more details). If you participate in the Limited Use Health Care FSA, this will be the same YSA card used to pay eligible expenses from the HSA.

Supporting Documentation

Along with the claim form, submit the appropriate supporting documentation, such as:

- The explanation of benefits (EOB) from the insurance company
- An itemized bill for services not covered by insurance, including the name of the service provider, cost of the service, patient name, description of the services rendered and date of service
- Receipts for any medications and copays
- Copies of any prescriptions if the receipt for the medication does not include an Rx number. This applies to over-the-counter drugs and medicine as well. No reimbursement will be provided for an over-the-counter drug without a prescription or Rx number.
Flexible Spending Accounts

Dependent Day Care Reimbursements

For Dependent Day Care FSA claims, only your current account balance is available to reimburse claims. If the dependent day care services exceed your account balance, you receive a partial reimbursement. You receive the unreimbursed portion of the claim as you make additional contributions to your Dependent Day Care FSA.

Supporting Documentation

When you seek reimbursement, please submit:

- Your provider’s bill or itemized receipt; and
- Your dependent day care provider’s name, address, and Social Security or federal tax identification number
- Signed provider certification on the YSA claim form along with dependent day care provider’s name, address, and Social Security or federal tax identification number.

Using Your YSA Card

You may use your prepaid Your Spending Account card (YSA Card) to pay for eligible health care expenses if you’ve chosen to contribute to your Health Care FSA. Dependent care expenses aren’t eligible for reimbursement through the YSA Card program.

If you elect to contribute to a Health Care FSA, you will receive a package containing one YSA Card issued in your name, activation instructions, a cardholder agreement, additional disclosures, and information explaining approved use of the card.

The YSA Card remains active for up to three years as long as your Health Care FSA is in good status, you consecutively re-enroll in the Health Care FSA, and you remain actively employed. Your card will be cancelled upon termination of employment—inactive participants may not use the YSA Card. By signing and using the card, you certify that:

- You will only use the card for your own eligible health care expenses and those of your eligible dependents under the Health Care FSA.

- Incurred expenses were for health care services or supplies purchased on or after the date your Health Care FSA took effect.

- Your expenses don’t include any amounts that are otherwise payable by plans for which you or your dependents are eligible.

- Any expense paid with the card has not been, or will not be, reimbursed by another source.

You can present your YSA Card for eligible health care expenses anywhere Debit VISA cards are accepted.

Important: Save your itemized receipts

Because all YSA Card transactions must be verified as eligible health care expenses, you may be required to provide the Plan with supporting documentation to validate your expenses. Make sure that you save all of your itemized receipts (indicating the date of service, the name of the service provider, the name of the person receiving service, the name of the product or service, and any amount paid by other coverage).

After the end of any given year, expenses incurred in the prior Plan year (plus the grace period) can be submitted via the manual claim process through April 30. If you re-enrolled, your balance on the YSA Card will be updated to your new election amount on January 1. YSA Card transactions that are not automatically validated will apply toward the new Plan year balance until additional documentation is provided and the claim is approved.

Automatic Validation with Approved Merchants

When you purchase eligible health care items by using your YSA Card with approved merchants, your transaction may be validated automatically without having to provide an itemized receipt or supporting documentation. For a complete listing of eligible expenses and approved merchants, visit the Your Spending Account Web site. Please note that the listing is subject to change at any time.
Flexible Spending Accounts

Automatic Validation for Other Medical Providers

Your YSA Card can also be used for other types of health care transactions without the need for submission of itemized receipts or further review. These transactions include recurring expenses, copayments and specific merchant category code. Below is a brief explanation of each type of transaction.

Recurring Transactions

If you purchase an eligible health care item or service using your YSA Card, that same item or service will be validated automatically the next time you purchase it with your YSA Card (at the same provider and for the same dollar amount). Your YSA Card will be programmed to recognize your plan’s copayment amounts without any additional validation being required (for example, a $25 copayment at a physician’s office).

Supporting Documentation

Manual claim submission and supporting documentation are sometimes required for the purchase of any prescription drug or health care service or item that isn’t validated automatically. These types of purchases are conditionally reimbursed, pending validation of the expenses. You will be sent a letter or email informing you that itemized receipts or other documentation are required to validate the YSA Card transaction. Expenses for which you don’t provide adequate documentation are considered ineligible and treated as overpayments. See the Overpayment Process section for more information.

Limited Use Health Care FSA Expenses

When you use your YSA card to pay for eligible expenses, your Limited Use Health Care FSA account will reimburse you first, if the expense is for dental or vision care. If the eligible expense is for medical care, the reimbursement will come from your HSA. This will happen automatically.

Overpayment Process

If you purchase products or services with your YSA Card that are ineligible for reimbursement through your Health Care FSA, you will receive notification from Your Spending Account that your transaction has been deemed an overpayment. This notification will be sent by email, so be sure that the Hilton Benefits Center has your valid email address.

Once an overpayment has been identified, the following actions will be taken immediately:

- Your YSA Card will be suspended and will remain suspended when your overpayment exceeds $100.
- If you provide the required validation documentation, the overpayment(s) will be cancelled and any claim(s) applied to offset the overpayment will be applied to the appropriate Plan year.
- Future paper claims will be processed, and eligible amounts will be applied to the outstanding overpayment. Payment will not be made on any paper claim until the overpayment has been fully repaid.
- You will be notified that you must refund the overpayment by mailing a check to Your Spending Account.
- Your Spending Account will allow you to resolve an overpayment on your account in one of the following ways. You will be given the option to:
  - Resubmit your claim with additional information;
  - Submit a new claim; or
  - Repay your overpayment by repaying online, the Reimbursement mobile application, or mailing a check to Your Spending Account.

The overpayment will remain active on the account until all amounts are recovered. If the overpayment amount isn’t recovered through the options above, Hilton will determine whether further action should be taken.

When Not to Use Your YSA Card — Coinsurance

If you enrolled in a plan that has coinsurance and you visit your doctor, wait until after your doctor submits a claim to your health plan to pay for any coinsurance using your YSA Card. Doctors often have negotiated reduced rates, so using your YSA Card at the time of service may result in an overpayment. Once your health plan pays its portion of the claim, your doctor will bill you for your portion. At that time, you may use your YSA Card to pay your portion of the bill. Remember to save your receipt in case it is requested.

Also, do not use the YSA Card to pay bills or claims incurred in the prior plan year during the current Plan year or grace period balance. Any YSA Card charges can only be incurred within the current plan year, however once approved the amount can be applied against any remaining prior year’s balance during the extension period.

Finally, your YSA Card will be deactivated if you are on a leave of absence. You can still file claims manually by sending in any paper claim forms.
HEALTH SAVINGS ACCOUNT (HSA Account)

HOW THE HSA WORKS

If you elect coverage under a high-deductible medical plan (HDHP), you may be able to establish a Health Savings Account (HSA Account) to complement the HDHP provided you have no other disqualifying health coverage (e.g., through a spouse or otherwise). An HSA Account is an account funded by you. The HSA Account can help you to cover, on a tax-free basis, medical plan expenses that the HDHP requires you to pay out of pocket, such as deductibles or coinsurance. It may be used to pay for certain medical expenses not covered under the HDHP. Amounts may be distributed from the HSA Account to pay non-medical expenses, but these amounts are subject to income tax and may be subject to a 20% penalty tax.

You must be covered under a high deductible health plan in order to participate in the HSA Account. In addition, you:

- Must not be covered by any high deductible medical plan considered non-qualified by the IRS. (This does not include coverage under an ancillary plan such as vision or dental, or any other permitted insurance as defined by the IRS);
- Must not participate in a full health care Flexible Spending Account (FSA) or other group health plan that is not a high deductible health plan;
- Must not be entitled to benefits under Medicare (i.e., enrolled in Medicare);
- Must not have received medical benefits from the Department of Veterans Affairs within the preceding three (3) months; and
- Must not be claimed as a dependent on another person’s tax return.

If you are eligible to participate in the HSA Account, you will fund your HSA Account by making contributions to it. All funds placed into your HSA Account are owned and controlled by you, subject to reasonable administrative restrictions imposed by the trustee. In general, you may begin making contributions to your HSA Account beginning on the first day of the month you are enrolled in the HDHP until the earlier of (i) the date on which you file taxes for that year; or (ii) the date on which the contributions reach the contribution maximum. If your coverage terminates under the HDHP, you may not make any further contributions to your HSA Account.

For 2019, the maximum HSA Account contribution is $3,500 for an individual and $7,000 for a family. If you do not use all of the funds in your HSA Account during the calendar year, the balance remaining in your HSA Account at the end of the year will roll over.

If you are age 55 or older, you can contribute up to an additional $1,000 in catch-up contributions. If your spouse is age 55 or older and is covered by the high deductible health plan, he or she can also open an account and contribute $1,000 in catch-up contributions to his or her account.

If you enroll in your HSA Account during the year (not on January 1), you will still be allowed to contribute the maximum amount. However, you must be eligible as of December 1 and remain enrolled in a high deductible health plan and HSA Account until the end of the next tax year or you will be subject to tax implications and an additional penalty tax of 10%.

The funds in your HSA Account will be available to help you pay your or your eligible dependents’ out-of-pocket costs under the medical plan, including annual Deductibles and coinsurance. You may also use your HSA Account funds to pay for medical care that is not covered under the medical plan design but is considered a deductible medical expense for federal income tax purposes under Section 213(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended from time to time (“Internal Revenue Code”). Such expenses are “qualified health expenses”. HSA Account funds used for such purposes are not subject to income or excise taxes.

“Qualified health expenses” only include expenses for medical care (as defined in Section 213(d) of the Internal Revenue Code) for you and your eligible dependents, meaning your spouse and any other family members whom you are allowed to file as dependents on your federal tax return, as defined in Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code.

HSA Account funds may also be used to pay for non-qualified health expenses but will generally be subject to income tax and a 20% additional tax.
Health Savings Account

unless an exception applies (i.e., your death, your disability, or your attainment of age 65).

A complete description of, and a definitive and current list of what constitutes eligible medical expenses, is available in IRS Publication 502 which is available from any regional IRS office or IRS website.

If you receive any additional medical services and you have funds in your HSA Account, you may use the funds in your HSA Account to pay for the medical expenses. If you choose not to use your HSA Account funds to pay for any Section 213(d) expenses that are not covered health services, you will still be required to pay the provider for services. The monies paid for these additional medical expenses will not count toward your deductible or out-of-pocket maximum.

You have the option of using funds in your HSA Account to pay for non-qualified health expenses. A non-qualified health expense is generally one which is not a deductible medical expense under Section 213(d) of the Internal Revenue Code. Any funds used from your HSA to pay for non-qualified expenses will be subject to income tax and a 20% additional tax unless an exception applies (i.e., your death, your disability, or your attainment of age 65).

In general, you may not use your HSA Account to pay for other health insurance without incurring a tax. You may use your HSA Account to pay for COBRA premiums and Medicare premiums.

The HSA Account offers a debit card that may be used to pay your health care expenses. Rules regarding the use of the debit card will be provided shortly after you enroll in the HSA Account.

Rollover Feature

If you do not use all of the funds in your HSA Account during the calendar year, the balance remaining in your HSA Account will roll-over. If your employment terminates for any reason, the funds in your HSA Account will continue to be owned and controlled by you, whether or not you elect COBRA coverage for the accompanying high deductible health plan. If you choose to transfer the HSA Account funds from one account to another eligible account, you must do so within 60 days from the date that HSA Account funds are distributed to you to avoid paying taxes on the funds. If you elect COBRA, the HSA Account funds will be available to assist you in paying your out-of-pocket costs under the medical plan and COBRA premiums while COBRA coverage is in effect.

Important

Be sure to keep your receipts and medical records. If these records verify that you paid qualified health expenses using your HSA Account, you can deduct these expenses from your taxable income when filing your tax return by filing IRS Form 8898 with your Form 1040. However, if you cannot demonstrate that you used your HSA Account to pay qualified health expenses, you may need to report the distribution as taxable income on your tax return. Consult your tax advisor to determine how your HSA Account affects your unique tax situation.

Additional Information about the HSA

It is important for you to know the amount in your HSA Account prior to withdrawing funds. You should not withdraw funds that will exceed the available balance.

Upon request from a health care professional, the health care professional may be provided with information regarding the balance in your HSA Account. If you do not want this information disclosed, you must notify the Claims Administrator and the financial institution in writing.

Although described in this SPD, the HSA Account is not part of the Plan and is not subject to ERISA.

Disability Coverage

OVERVIEW OF YOUR DISABILITY COVERAGE

If you become disabled from a non-work-related injury or illness and can’t work, the Plan helps you meet the challenge by offering two disability coverages: short-term disability (STD) (salary continuation for Corporate Team Members) and long-term disability (LTD). As you read about these coverages, keep the following in mind:

- As long as you are actively at work for at least one full day on or after the date you meet the eligibility requirements, you receive STD coverage automatically and, if elected, Optional STD Buy-Up and LTD coverage. LTD coverage starts on the first day of the month following the month in which you meet the eligibility requirements. For example, if you are a Team Member who becomes disabled on your 60th day of employment, you will not be entitled to disability benefits. For STD, you must work for 31 more days (so you will have 91 days of employment) before you will be eligible for benefits. For LTD, you must work through the first month of the month following the month you meet the eligibility requirements.

- If you are on a leave of absence and elect to increase the amount of your disability coverage, the new coverage amount will not take effect until you are actively at work. See the “Coverage During Unpaid Absences” section in the Participation chapter for more details on when election changes take effect.

Evidence of Insurability (EOI)

If you elect coverage under the optional STD Buy-Up or optional LTD when you are first eligible, you will not have to satisfy any EOI requirements. However, if you elect optional coverage at any later date, you will have to satisfy the insurance company’s EOI requirements. EOI requires you to provide a statement of your medical history that the insurance company will use to determine if you are approved for coverage.

Consult your insurance booklet for the EOI rules that apply to the coverages you’ve chosen.

In addition, if you are assigned to an international position as an expatriate, your disability coverage will not begin until approved by Prudential.

Basic Weekly and Monthly Earnings

Although the STD benefit is based on “basic weekly earnings” and the LTD benefit is based on “basic monthly earnings”, both benefits actually base these calculations on the same annual earnings figure.

Your annual earnings figure will be updated once annually and communicated to you at annual enrollment. The amount will be effective for benefits purposes starting the next January 1st. This figure will remain constant throughout the year even if your earnings change during the year. For example, if your annual enrollment materials indicate that your annual earnings are $26,000 per year (which would be $500 per week or $2,000 per month) in 2018, your disability benefits for 2019 will be based on annual earnings of $26,000, even if your actual annual earnings at the time of your disability in 2019 are higher or lower than $26,000.

*Additionally, you may be eligible for Social Security benefits for your disability. Contact your local Social Security office for more detailed information. Also, if you are disabled under the LTD program, the Claims Administrator can offer assistance with your application for Social Security disability benefits or appeal. Please contact the Claims Administrator (at the address and phone number in the General Information section) for more information if you would like this assistance.

The amount of the STD benefit for Corporate Team Members and Team Members in certain states with statutory short-term disability benefits may vary. For information on the amount of your STD coverage, see the Corporate Team Members’ Handbook.

Corporate Team Members receive short-term disability benefits through their Employer’s salary continuation program and may have other options in lieu of the Optional STD Buy-Up. If you have a question as to whether you are a corporate or non-corporate Team Member, please check with your HR team. If you are a Corporate Team Member, contact the Hilton Benefits Center to request a copy of the salary continuation program document for more details.
Disability Coverage

SHORT-TERM DISABILITY

Under the STD program, a disability is considered short-term if it lasts for 26 weeks or less. If it lasts for more than 26 weeks and you purchased LTD coverage, you may become eligible to receive long-term disability benefits, which are described later in this section.

Eligibility for STD Coverage

Depending on where you work, you may be eligible to participate in either the Basic STD or a state mandated short-term disability program. Regardless of which program covers you, coverage is provided automatically. In some states a mandatory employee contribution is required for state mandated STD coverage. In addition, you may be eligible to increase your STD coverage level by participating in the STD Buy-Up program.

Basic STD

You are eligible to participate in the Basic STD program if you meet the eligibility requirements described in the "Participation" section of this handbook and do not work in any one of the following states: California, New Jersey, New York or Rhode Island. This section describes the benefits under the Basic STD program. If you are a Corporate Team Member, your STD benefits may vary. If you have a question as to whether you are a corporate or non-corporate Team Member, please check with your HR team.

State Mandated Benefits

If you work in California, New Jersey, New York or Rhode Island, you are covered by your state mandated short-term disability insurance and not the Basic STD program.

In New York, you are covered under the Disability Benefits Law (DBL) insurance plan. The DBL plan is insured with Prudential, the Claims Administrator for both the STD and LTD programs. The plan pays short-term disability benefits at the level provided under New York’s program, and is administered by Prudential. Coverage under the DBL plan will begin on your 29th day of employment. Team Members working part-time in New York are eligible to participate in the DBL plan only after 25 days worked.

If you work in California, New Jersey or Rhode Island, please contact your local Human Resources Department for information on your eligibility and how to obtain short-term disability benefits under your state’s program.

STD Buy-Up

You may purchase additional STD coverage under the optional STD Buy-Up program if:

- You participate in:
  - The Basic STD program; or
  - A state-mandated short-term disability insurance program and are otherwise an eligible Employee (see “Eligibility” in the “Participation” section of this handbook for more details); and

- Your annual earnings are at least $10,833. Note that some state mandated coverages may have different base salary limits that may impact whether or not you can elect STD Buy-Up and/or the value of such additional coverage. Please contact the appropriate state agency for more information.

Corporate Team Members are eligible to participate in the Salary Continuation Plan, rather than STD Buy-Up. You should review Hilton’s Salary Continuation Plan document if this benefit applies to you.

Eligibility for STD Benefits

Covered Disabilities and Elimination Period

Before you can qualify for Basic STD and STD Buy-Up benefits, you must be “disabled” (defined below) for seven consecutive days because of a non-work related covered injury or sickness. This seven-day period is referred to as the “elimination period” and begins on the day you become disabled. Please refer to the booklet provided by the insurance carrier for more information on the insurance carrier’s requirements for determining whether a covered person is “disabled”, as well as for a list of excluded disabilities. If you work in California, New Jersey, New York or Rhode Island, you will be considered “disabled” in accordance with your state’s disability benefit program.
Disability Coverage

Physical Examination

The Claims Administrator, at its expense, may require you to undergo a physical examination if you submit a claim for STD benefits or while you are receiving STD benefits. If you refuse to be examined, the Claims Administrator may deny your claim or terminate your benefits.

Amount of STD Benefits

If you are eligible for STD benefits, the STD program pays the following:

- Basic STD Coverage. You receive 60% of your basic weekly earnings minus amounts from other deductible sources of income. The maximum benefit is $250 per week for up to 26 weeks. If you work in California, New Jersey, New York or Rhode Island, your STD benefits are paid at the level provided under the state-mandated short-term disability insurance plan that covers you. Corporate Team Members’ disability benefits may vary. See the Corporate Team Member handbook for more information.

- STD Buy-Up Coverage. You receive 60% of your basic weekly earnings minus amounts from other deductible sources of income. The maximum benefit is $2,308 per week for up to 26 weeks (Basic and Buy-Up combined; or, if applicable, state-mandated benefits and Buy-Up combined). Corporate Team Member may have other options in lieu of the STD Buy-Up coverage.

If you are covered under the state-mandated benefits provided in New York, California, New Jersey or Rhode Island, it is your responsibility to file with the state for any state-mandated benefits due to you. If you do not file for such state-mandated benefits and you receive benefits under STD Buy-Up, your STD Buy-Up coverage benefits will be reduced by the amount you would have received under the state-mandated disability program.

Your STD benefit amount will be reduced by any disability income benefits you may receive under any state compulsory benefit act or law. This minimum benefit may be applied to any overpayment that results, for example, from an error in processing your benefit amount. Your STD benefit amount will not be reduced by income from profit sharing, thrift, 401(k), Keogh, employee stock option, and tax-sheltered annuity plans.

Working While Disabled

If you are eligible to receive STD benefits, but return to work after satisfying the elimination period, you may still receive some benefits. See the benefit booklet issued by the insurance company for more details.

If you have any questions regarding the amount of your STD benefits, please contact:

- If you work in California, New Jersey or Rhode Island, the appropriate state agency.
- If you work anywhere else, Claims Administrator

Duration of STD Benefits

STD benefits will begin when the Claims Administrator approves your claim, generally the eighth day you are disabled. As noted above, before your claim can be approved, you must be disabled for the elimination period. Until STD benefits begin, you may use your Paid Time Off (if available).

You will need to file a claim for benefits to be paid, and you may be required to submit proof of your continued disability during your STD period. See “Applying for Benefits” at the end of this section for details. If your claim is approved, you generally receive your STD benefit check from the insurance company. The amount you receive may be subject to income tax withholding. See the benefit booklet issued by the insurance company for details such as payment frequency and when benefits end.

If You Return to Work

If you return to work full-time, and, again become disabled from the same or a related cause, your second disability may be treated as part of your prior claim. See the benefit booklet issued by the insurance company for more details.

Concurrent Disability

If a new, non-work related disability occurs while you are receiving benefits for another covered disability, your benefits will continue while you...
Disability Coverage

remain disabled. These benefits will be subject to the maximum length of benefits described above and any limitations and exclusions applied to the initial cause of disability.

LONG-TERM DISABILITY

If you are receiving STD benefits and your disabling illness or injury lasts longer than 26 weeks, and you are enrolled in LTD, you may be eligible for LTD benefits, which helps provide continued income replacement.

Eligibility for LTD Benefits

If you are enrolled in LTD coverage and are determined to be disabled under the LTD program, you will be eligible for LTD benefits in accordance with the terms of the LTD program.

Covered Disabilities and Elimination Period

Similar to the eligibility requirements for STD benefits, you must be continuously disabled for an elimination period. For LTD, the elimination period is 180 consecutive days, and must be satisfied before you are eligible to receive benefits.

You will be eligible for LTD benefits if, after you satisfy the elimination period and for the first 24 months for which LTD benefits are payable, the Claims Administrator determines that you are disabled.

Please refer to the booklet provided by the insurance carrier for more information on the insurance carrier’s requirements for determining whether a covered person is “disabled”, as well as for a list of excluded disabilities.

Physical Examination

The Claims Administrator, at its expense, may require you to undergo a physical examination if you submit a claim for LTD benefits or while you are receiving LTD benefits. If you refuse to be examined, the Claims Administrator may deny your claim or terminate your benefits.

Disabilities Excluded From Coverage

You will not be eligible for LTD benefits if you incur a disability that is caused by, contributed to by, or results from:

- An intentionally self-inflicted injury (sane or insane);
- Your committing, or attempt to commit, an assault, battery or felony;
- War or any act of war (declared or not declared);
- Insurrection, rebellion, or taking part in a riot or civil commotion; or
- A disability that starts during the first 12 months of your current LTD coverage, if it is caused or contributed to by a “preexisting condition.” This means a condition for which, during the last three months before you last became covered, you:
  ✓ Were diagnosed;
  ✓ Received treatment or services; or
  ✓ Took drugs or medicines prescribed or recommended by a physician.

Amount of LTD Benefits

Determining the Benefit Amount

The LTD program provides you with a monthly benefit based on a percentage of your basic monthly earnings. If you qualify for LTD benefits, you will receive a benefit equal to the following amounts, depending on which option you elected:

- Option 1 - 50% of your basic monthly earnings minus amounts from other deductible sources of income. The maximum benefit is $3,000 per month
- Option 2 - 60% of your basic monthly earnings minus amounts from other deductible sources of income. The maximum benefit is $20,000 per month

The minimum benefit under either option is $100 per month.
Disability Coverage

Please refer to the booklet provided by the insurance carrier for more information on how your LTD benefit amount will be reduced by other benefits.

Working While Disabled

Even if you are disabled, you may feel well enough to return to work. Depending on how much you earn while working (your “disability earnings”), your LTD benefit amount may remain unchanged, may be adjusted or may terminate. If you are working while disabled, the Claims Administrator may require you to send proof of your disability earnings on a monthly basis.

Please contact the Claims Administrator or refer to the booklet provided by the insurance carrier for more information on working while disabled.

Rehabilitation Services

The LTD program offers you services to help you get back to work. Please refer to the booklet provided by the insurance carrier for more information on the criteria for this program.

Duration of LTD Benefits

Benefits will begin after the Claims Administrator approves your claim, provided you have satisfied the elimination period. Please refer to the booklet provided by the insurance carrier for more information on the frequency of payment and when benefits end.

Maximum Period for Payment

Subject to the limited pay period described in the booklet provided by the insurance carrier, the maximum period is the longest period for which you can receive LTD benefits. This period will depend on your age when your disability begins. Please see the booklet provided by the insurance carrier for more information.

Limited Pay Period

A period of disability may be limited if it is determined that the disability is primarily caused by a Mental Health or Psychiatric condition, including physical manifestations of these conditions, but excluding those conditions with demonstrable, structural brain damage. Please refer to the booklet provided by the insurance carrier for more information on limitations and exclusions applicable in this situation.

Recurring Disabilities

If you return to work full-time after receiving LTD benefits and you have a recurrent disability, your recurrent disability may be treated as part of your prior claim and you will not have to complete another elimination period under certain circumstances. Please refer to the booklet provided by the insurance carrier for more information on the timing rules and other requirements applicable to recurring disabilities.

Survivor’s Benefit

Your survivor will be entitled to receive a survivor benefit if he or she meets the insurance carrier’s requirements. Please refer to the booklet provided by the carrier.

Recovery of Overpayments

Please note that you will be required to return to the insurance company any overpayment of STD or LTD benefits paid to you as a result of:

- Fraud;
- Any error the Claims Administrator may make in processing your claim; or
- Your receipt of any deductible sources of income.

If your survivors become entitled to the survivor benefit, the insurance company may first apply the survivor benefit to any overpayment that may exist on your claim.

Your spouse’s or domestic partner’s coverage cannot exceed 100% of your combined Basic Life and Supplemental Life Insurance. EOI is required for spouse life coverage of $25,000 or more or for certain enrollments made after initial eligibility. This requirement does not apply to AD&D coverage.

Refer to the insurance certificate to determine which amount is applicable to you.

WHEN YOU ENROLL

Naming a Beneficiary

When you first enroll for coverage, you designate one or more beneficiaries to receive the proceeds of your Basic Life, Supplemental Life (if you elect), Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) (if you elect) and Business Travel Accident insurances by providing your beneficiary information online using the Your Benefits Resource website at http://digital.alight.com/hilton. You may also change your designation at any time by using this same website. Your beneficiary designation is effective on the date you complete the online designation, but will apply to any insurance amounts paid after the insurance company receives your change. Please contact the Hilton Benefits Center with any questions.

If you elect the optional Dependent Life Insurance coverage, or AD&D Insurance coverage for your dependents, you are the named beneficiary. You are the beneficiary for your eligible dependents under Business Travel Accident Insurance. If you are not living and a benefit becomes payable (for example, your dependent dies during the 31-day conversion period for dependent life insurance following termination of coverage after your death), the benefit will be paid to your estate.

No Beneficiary Designation

If you do not designate a beneficiary to receive any of your life, AD&D and Business Travel Accident death benefits, your beneficiary or beneficiaries for any applicable life and accident insurance coverages is the first surviving person(s) listed below:

1. Your lawful spouse (or domestic partner, for Business Travel Accident Insurance)
2. Your natural or legally adopted children (benefit divided equally)
3. Your parents (benefit divided equally)
4. Your natural or legally adopted brothers and sisters (benefit divided equally)
5. Your estate, payable to your executor or administrator

Regular Annual Earnings

Basic Life, Supplemental Life, and AD&D benefits are based on your regular annual earnings. Your regular annual earnings for purposes of these benefits are based on your current year’s pay, plus:

a) overtime, bonus and tips received July 1 through December 31 of the calendar year immediately preceding the prior calendar year; and

b) overtime, bonus and tips received January 1 through June 30 of the prior calendar year.

Earnings also include the amount of any pre-tax contributions the Team Member makes to the Hilton 401(k) savings plan and the cost of health care coverage the Team Member pays on a pre-tax basis.

Evidence of Insurability

In some instances, you may be required to provide Evidence of Insurability (EOI) for your elected life insurance coverages. This may require that you, your spouse or domestic partner pass a thorough physical examination. Coverage in excess of the amount subject to EOI will only become effective when the insurance company approves the EOI. This means that if you enroll for any life insurance that requires EOI at annual enrollment, coverage will become effective at the later of January 1 or the insurance company’s approval of EOI. If you are on a leave of absence during annual enrollment, you will not be able to add or increase your life insurance coverage for yourself or any dependent during annual enrollment. Instead, you may make a new election to add or increase coverage during the 31-day period that begins on the day you return to work. You must contact the Hilton Benefits Center to make this change to your coverage. The election you make during this 31-day period will become effective on the later of the date you return to work or the date the insurer approves any required EOI.

When is EOI Required

There are three possible times at which EOI may be required for Supplemental Life Insurance — upon initial eligibility, during annual enrollment and making changes to coverage amounts. There are three possible times at which EOI may be required for Dependent Life Insurance for your spouse or domestic partner — during initial enrollment and annual enrollment and making changes to coverage amounts. Coverage for dependent child(ren) will not require EOI. The chart below sets forth the circumstances under which EOI may be required. No EOI is needed if you reduce your coverage from a higher amount to a lower coverage amount or to add coverage for your dependent child(ren).

LIFE INSURANCE

Basic and Supplemental Life Insurance

As noted in the “Snapshot” chart, Basic Life Insurance coverage is equal to one times your regular annual earnings, rounded up to the next higher $1,000, up to a maximum benefit of $2,500,000 as of the date of enrollment. Your Basic Life Insurance coverage amount (as well as any Supplemental Life Insurance coverage you have elected for yourself) changes annually at annual enrollment, effective for the following plan year. Any mid-year adjustment will not be made effective until January 1 of the following plan year, provided you are still enrolled in the benefit at that time.

Supplemental Life Insurance coverage pays benefits in addition to your Basic Life Insurance coverage and is subject to a maximum benefit of $2,500,000. The cost of coverage for Supplemental Life Insurance is based on your age and tobacco use.

Your Basic and Supplemental Life Insurance coverage may be reduced beginning the year you reach age 65. Please refer to the booklet provided by the insurance carrier for details.

Tax Alert

Your Basic Life Insurance coverage may be automatically provided to you at Hilton’s cost. If Hilton-provided Basic Life Insurance coverage does not exceed $50,000, the coverage is tax free to you. However, if Hilton-provided Basic Life Insurance coverage exceeds $50,000, you must include in your gross income the cost of the excess coverage that is paid by Hilton. For this purpose, the cost is computed using a uniform premium table published by the Internal Revenue Service and is reported to you on your Form W-2 (“C” in Box 12) and on your paycheck (under “Group Term Life”).

Dependent Life Insurance

You may elect to purchase Dependent Life Insurance for your eligible spouse or domestic partner as well as any dependent children. If you elect dependent life insurance for any dependent who is confined for medical care or treatment at home or elsewhere, coverage for your dependent begins when the dependent is medically released from confinement.

Conversion and Portability Rights

If your Basic Life, Supplemental Life and Dependent Life Insurance end or are reduced (e.g., age reduction) for certain reasons, you have certain rights to continue the lost coverages at your expense. Please refer to the insurance carrier’s documents for details.

Accelerated Life Insurance Benefit

An accelerated benefit feature is part of your Basic Life, Dependent Life and Supplemental Life Insurance coverage.

Tobacco Use

Supplemental Life

You must certify your tobacco status. If you elect coverage that requires evidence of insurability and the insurance carrier identifies that a tobacco status does not match what was originally submitted, the insurance carrier will notify Hilton of this change which may impact your life insurance premium rates. The certification will be similar to the following:

• Have you used tobacco in any form or electronic cigarettes during the past twelve months? You are considered a non-tobacco user if you have not used tobacco in any form or electronic cigarettes in the last 12 months.

Spouse/DP Life

You must certify your spouse/domestic partner’s tobacco status. If you elect coverage that requires evidence of insurability and the insurance carrier identifies that a tobacco status does not match what was originally submitted, the insurance carrier will notify Hilton of this change which may impact your life insurance premium rates. The certification will be similar to the following:

• Has your spouse/domestic partner used tobacco in any form or electronic cigarettes during the past twelve months? Your spouse/domestic partner is considered a non-tobacco user if they have not used tobacco in any form or electronic cigarettes in the last 12 months.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE

Hilton offers two types of accident protection: Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) and Business Travel. If your loss happens to be payable under both types of protection, then benefits will be paid from both the AD&D and Business Travel Accident programs. Benefits will not be offset in this instance. (See the insurance carrier's booklet for information about exclusions from accident coverage.)

Accidental Death and Dismemberment Insurance

AD&D Insurance is available for purchase and pays benefits for a death or dismemberment occurring within 365 days of, and resulting from, a covered accident while your coverage is in effect. You must elect AD&D coverage. For AD&D Insurance, two coverage levels are available:

- You Only
- You + Family

For you, AD&D Insurance coverage is in salary increments of 1 – 8 x your earnings. The maximum coverage is the amount set forth in the documents provided by the insurance carrier.

If you elect Accidental Death and Dismemberment coverage for a dependent who is confined to a health care facility or disabled due to sickness or injury, coverage for your dependent begins when the confinement ends or your dependent is no longer disabled.

Your AD&D Insurance coverage may be reduced beginning the year you reach age 65. Please refer to the booklet provided by the insurance carrier for details.

Additional Accidental Death Benefits

The benefits listed below are also part of the AD&D benefit when you elect AD&D Insurance coverage. Please see the documents provided by the insurance carrier for details and eligibility requirements for these benefits.

- Child care benefit
- Child dismemberment double benefit
- Education benefit (for your dependent child and for your spouse/domestic partner)
- Seat belt and air bag benefit
- Common accident benefit
- Coma benefit
- Disappearance benefit
- Exposure benefit
- Total disability benefit

Business Travel Accident Insurance

Business Travel Accident Insurance, insured by Chubb, pays benefits in the event of accidental dismemberment or death while traveling on Hilton business if the loss occurs within 365 days of the accident. Generally, non-union Team Members working at least 30 hours per week are eligible for coverage under Business Travel Accident Insurance.

Business Travel Accident Insurance provides you with accident coverage while you are traveling on Hilton business away from your regular place of employment at Hilton’s authorization, direction and expense and for periods of 365 days or less. Business travel includes travel or activities that are unrelated to business and which take place away from your residence or regular place of employment. Such travel or activities must coincide with your business travel and is limited to any consecutive seven-day period immediately prior to, during or immediately following your business travel.

Your spouse or domestic partner and covered dependent children are covered if they accompany you while you are traveling on Hilton business, at Hilton’s authorization, direction and expense, for periods of 365 days or less. Coverage is also provided while your dependents are traveling with you on relocation travel that is more than 50 miles from your current work location. To qualify as a “covered dependent child” for purposes of

Business Travel Accident Insurance, your dependent child must be:

- Unmarried
- Your natural child, grandchild, stepchild, or adopted child
- Primarily dependent upon you for maintenance and support
- Under age 19, or under age 25 if enrolled as a full-time student at an institution of higher learning, or classified as an incapacitated dependent child.

Business Travel Accident benefits are paid in addition to those under your AD&D Insurance in the event the loss is covered by both types of insurance.

Additional Business Travel Accident Benefits

The benefits listed below are also part of the Business Travel Accident Insurance coverage. Please see the documents provided by the insurance carrier for details and eligibility requirements for these benefits.

- Carjacking benefit
- Child care expense benefit
- COBRA premium expense benefit
- Coma benefit
- Education expense benefit
- Home alteration or vehicle modification benefit
- Medical evacuation and repatriation benefit
- Personal property benefit
- Psychological therapy expense benefit
- Rehabilitation expense benefit
- Seat belt and occupant protection device benefit
- Political evacuation benefit

Additional benefits may be available. Please review the policy for details.

When Benefits Are Paid Under the AD&D or Business Travel Accident Programs

For benefits to be paid under either accident insurance program, the accident must occur while your coverage is in effect and the loss must occur within 365 days of the accident. For benefits to be payable under Business Travel Accident, your accident must also occur while traveling on Hilton business. In the event of your death, 100% of the coverage amount is payable to your designated beneficiary. Depending on the severity of the loss and type of coverage, 100%, 50% or 25% of your coverage amount may be payable to you, as shown in the chart below:

General Information

PLAN ADMINISTRATION

The Plan Administrator has the sole and complete discretionary authority to determine eligibility for Plan benefits and to construe the terms of the Plan, including the making of factual determinations. The Plan Administrator shall have the discretionary authority to grant or deny benefits under the Plan. Benefits under the Plan will be paid only if the Plan Administrator decides in its discretion that the applicant is entitled to them. The decisions of the Plan Administrator shall be final and conclusive with respect to all questions relating to the Plan. If a Claims Administrator has the only review authority, the Claims Administrator’s decision will be final and conclusive with respect to all questions.

The Plan Administrator may delegate certain of its Plan duties to other persons and may seek such expert advice as the Plan Administrator deems reasonably necessary with respect to the Plan. The Plan Administrator shall be entitled to rely on the information and advice furnished by such delegates and experts, unless actually knowing such information and advice to be inaccurate or unlawful.

The Plan Administrator may adopt uniform rules for the administration of the Plan from time to time, as it deems necessary or appropriate.

Amendment and Termination

Hilton intends to offer the Plan indefinitely, but reserves the sole discretionary right to modify, amend or terminate the Plan, in any respect, at any time and from time to time, retroactively or otherwise, by a written instrument adopted by its Board of Directors or its designee. Hilton’s decision to change or terminate the Plan could result from:

- Changes in federal or state laws governing employee benefits;
- Changes in an insurance contract or policy involving an insurance company;
- Changes in a collective bargaining agreement; or
- Any other reason.

If the Plan is modified, amended or terminated, you will be notified of the effect of such change to your Plan benefits or coverage. However, the modification, amendment or termination may be effective before you are notified, to the extent permitted by law. Subject to the terms of any collective bargaining agreement, no consent of any employee or any other person will be necessary for Hilton to modify, amend or terminate the Plan described in this handbook.

Representations Contrary to the Plan

No employee, director or officer of Hilton has the authority to alter, vary or modify the terms of the Plan except by means of a duly authorized written amendment to the Plan. No verbal or written representations contrary to the terms of the Plan are binding upon the Plan, the Plan Administrator or Hilton.

No Assignment

To the extent permitted by law, and except as specified under the terms of the Plan, no benefits or any amount payable under the Plan will be subject to alienation, sale, transfer, assignment, garnishment, execution or encumbrance of any kind, and any attempt to do so will be void. This anti-assignment rule prevents you from legally assigning your rights under the Plan (which are personal to you) to a third party, including any person, practitioner, facility or institution, by which these third parties would stand in your shoes and be permitted to make claims directly against the Plan. Any attempt to assign any payment or benefit under the Plan will be null and void and will not be recognized or given effect. Only eligible participants have benefit rights under the Plan. However, benefits under the Plan may be subject to a Qualified Medical Child Support Order (QMCSO).

Recovery of Payments Made by Mistake

You will be required to return to Hilton any benefits, or portion thereof, paid under the Plan by a mistake of fact or law. If you do not return benefits paid under the Plan by a mistake of fact or law, the Plan may offset your future benefits up to the amount you owe the Plan.

Responsibility for Tax Implication of Benefits

You will be responsible for the tax implications of and determination of imputed income with respect to any benefits you elect for eligible dependents.
General Information

who are not entitled to tax-free benefits under current federal law.

No Contract of Employment or Service

Your participation in the Plan does not assure you of continued employment with Hilton or rights to benefits except as specified under the terms of the Plan. Nothing in the Plan or in this handbook confers any right of continued employment (or service, as applicable) to any employee or leased employee, as applicable.

Severability

If a court of competent jurisdiction finds, holds or deems any provision of the Plan described in this book to be void, unlawful or unenforceable under any applicable statute or other controlling law, the remainder of the Plan shall continue in full force and effect.

Plan Funding

Benefits offered under the Plan are provided on either a self-insured basis by Hilton or are fully insured, as shown in the following chart.

Definition

As claims are made, covered benefits are paid from Hilton’s general assets. However, Hilton has administrative services contracts with third-party administrators to decide on and process claims.

An insurance carrier insures the benefits and pays the covered benefits. Hilton pays premiums to the insurance carrier for benefit coverages from its own funds as well as employee payroll deductions. In addition, an insurance carrier provides administrative services and makes decisions regarding benefits.

Please see the “Plan Information” chart at the end of this section for more details on which third-party administrators and insurance companies Hilton has contracted with to provide services and benefits.

Applicable Law

The Plan described in this handbook shall be governed and construed in accordance with the laws of the Commonwealth of Virginia to the extent not preempted by the laws of the United States.

Governmental Benefits Exclusion

If services or benefits are reasonably available under any plan or program established by any government or under any plan or program in which any government participates (other than as an employer), benefits under the Plan are not payable for such services or benefits unless payment is legally required. In the case of any person who is not enrolled for all coverage for which he or she has become eligible under any such plan or program, services and benefits available shall nevertheless include all benefits to which he or she would be entitled if he or she were enrolled for such coverage. The term “any government” includes the federal, state, provincial or local government or any political subdivision thereof of the United States or any country. This provision is subject to any provision or regulation of such plan or program that requires that benefits be utilized before benefits are available thereunder.

Interpretive Authority

If the Plan document does not clearly dictate whether an expense is eligible under the Plan and/or what percentage of the eligible charge is covered, the Claims Administrator or insurer will make a determination and pay benefits accordingly. Except as provided above, if a question arises as to the interpretation of the terms of the Plan document, the Plan Administrator has discretionary authority to interpret, construe and apply the terms of the Plan document and to decide any such question, including but not limited to a question as to a Team Member’s eligibility to participate in the Plan.

Statement of ERISA Rights

As a Plan participant, you are entitled to certain rights and protections under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). ERISA provides that you are entitled to:

Receive Information About Your Plan and Benefits

- Examine without charge at 7930 Jones Branch Drive, McLean, VA 22102, and major Human Resources offices of Hilton, all Plan documents, including insurance contracts, and copies of all documents filed by the Plan with the U.S. Department of Labor and available at the Public Disclosure Room of the Employee Benefits Security Administration, such as annual financial reports (Form 5500 Series).

- Obtain copies of documents governing the operation of the Plan, including insurance contracts, and copies of the latest annual report (Form 5500 Series) and updated summary plan description upon written request to the Plan Administrator (at the address above). The Plan Administrator may make a reasonable charge for the copies.

- Receive summaries of the Plan’s annual financial reports. These summaries are prepared and distributed to Plan participants each year. The Plan Administrator is required by law to furnish each participant a copy of the summary annual report.

Continue Group Health Plan Coverage

- Under a group health plan, continue health care coverage for yourself, spouse or dependents if there is a loss of coverage under the group health plan as a result of a qualifying event. You and your dependents may have to pay for such coverage. Review this SPD and the documents governing the Plan regarding the rules governing your COBRA continuation coverage rights.

- Reduction or elimination of exclusionary periods of coverage for preexisting conditions under your group health plan. You should be provided with a certificate of creditable coverage, free of charge, from your group health plan or health insurance issuer when you lose group health care coverage under the Plan, when you become entitled to elect COBRA continuation coverage, when your COBRA continuation coverage ceases, if you request it before losing coverage, or if you request it up to 24 months after losing coverage. Without evidence of creditable coverage, you may be subject to a preexisting condition exclusion for 12 months (18 months for late enrollees under HIPAA) after your enrollment in your coverage.

Prudent Actions by Plan Fiduciaries

In addition to creating rights for Plan participants, ERISA imposes duties upon the people who are responsible for the operation of the Plan. The people who operate the Plan, called “fiduciaries,” have a duty to do so prudently and in the interest of you and other Plan participants and beneficiaries.

No one, including Hilton or any other person, may discharge you or otherwise discriminate against you in any way to prevent you from obtaining a welfare benefit or exercising your rights under ERISA.

Enforce Your Rights

If your claim for a welfare benefit is denied in whole or in part, you must receive a written explanation of the reasons for the denial. You have the right to know why this was done, to obtain copies of documents relating to the decision without charge, and to appeal any denial, all within certain time schedules.

Under ERISA there are steps you can take to enforce the above rights. For instance, if you request a copy of Plan documents or the latest annual report from the Plan and do not receive them within 30 days, you may file suit in a federal court. In such a case, the court may require the Plan Administrator to provide the materials and pay you up to $110 a day until you receive the materials, unless the materials were not sent because of reasons beyond the control of the Plan Administrator.

If you have a claim for benefits that is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you may file suit in a state or federal court. In addition, if you disagree with the Plan’s decision or lack thereof concerning the qualified status of a medical child support order, you may file suit in federal court. If it should happen that Plan fiduciaries misuse the Plan’s money, or if you are discriminated against for asserting your rights, you may seek assistance from the U.S. Department of Labor, or you may file suit in a federal court. The court will decide who should pay court costs and legal fees. If you are successful, the court may order the Plan Administrator to pay these costs and fees. If you lose, the court may order you to pay these costs and fees if, for example, it finds your claim is frivolous.

Assistance With Your Questions

If you have any questions about the Plan, you should contact the Plan Administrator (at the address below). If you have any questions about this statement or about your rights under ERISA, or if you need assistance obtaining documents from the Plan Administrator, you should contact the nearest office of the Employee Benefits Security Administration.
